

FINAL WEEDING OUT IN CABINET LIST STARTED

Believe All But Three Posts Are Now Filled.

DAUGHERTY NAMED

Announcement Will Not Likely Be Made Until March 3.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 16.—The conferences in progress this week between president elect Harding and Republican party managers here, constitute the final weeding out process in the cabinet garden. While it is not virtually certain that there will be no announcement of the new cabinet until March 3 and quite possible not until March 4, the president elect hopes within another week to have matters so adjusted that he could make public his selections, if such a course were deemed expedient. There is no indication, however, that such a course will be considered advisable.

As matters stand today those about the president-elect believe that if he were confronted with the task of naming immediately the members of his official family he would name Charles Evans Hughes to be secretary of state; Harry M. Daugherty to be attorney general; Will H. Hays to be postmaster general; Andrew Mellon to be secretary of the treasury; John W. Weeks, to be secretary of war; Henry C. Wallace to be secretary of agriculture and Senator Albert B. Fall to be secretary of the interior and there they stop. The three remaining posts—navy, commerce and labor—are still very much in the air, according to those about the new president.

Lowden Named
Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, may be the new secretary of the navy, John Hays Hammond may be the secretary of commerce and James Duncan or James J. Davis may fill the labor portfolio but there is little to indicate that the president elect made any definite decisions regarding them.

So far as Mr. Harding himself is concerned he has indulged in practically no cabinet talk other than to say that this man or that man has been strongly recommended. He has conferred in the morning and golfed in the afternoon and meanwhile watched the reaction of the various names proposed.

Today Mr. Harding had appointments scheduled with Alfred H. Smith, president of the New York Central Railway, Col. Arthur W. Woods, former head of the New York Police department; T. V. O'Connor, president of the longshoremen's union and George Sylvester Viereck, former head of the German American alliance.

It is understood that Smith took up with President elect Harding the financial conditions of the railroads and stressed the need for congress immediately voting them the government guaranty funds. This bill making available these funds had struck a snag in congress and the railroads are insistently urging action.

Col. Woods came to St. Augustine at Mr. Harding's request, it is understood. He has been suggested as possible assistant secretary of war. He filled a similar position during the war and has been strongly recommended to reassume those duties in the new administration.

Dream of Boyhood Realized In His Plans For Antioch

Arthur E. Morgan Tells Chamber of Commerce Members His Views On Higher Education at Banquet Tuesday Evening.

As a barefoot boy, spending his mornings in the little country school and then trudging four miles into the country in the afternoon to work on a farm, Arthur E. Morgan, having time to think on his long walks, thought of a plan to let children get their education cheaply through working their way.

Later as a lad, loading granite in box cars, Morgan earned $2.25 a week and wore out $2.75 worth of gloves in the same period. He again building up a new education at the school. So he told an audience of almost 100 people at the February banquet at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

Mr. Morgan said in opening that Xenia and Antioch have always been so closely associated in the past and must be so closely associated in the future, that he felt he could not be well acquainted with Antioch without first getting acquainted with Xenia. In the space allotted to him he unfolded an interesting tale of the plans ahead for the "Harvard of the West," explaining the idea of the new board in combining practice and theory, and in attempting by the co-operative method, to provide suitable practical work to help students through the institution.

UNEARTH BODY OF AGED WOMAN THAT WAS BURIED IN YARD

Strange Story Told By Mother And Daughter.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—After hours of digging reporters for the Chicago Herald and Examiner at daybreak this morning unearthed the body of Mrs. Nancy M. Chamberlain, 91 years old, from its burial place in the garden in the rear of an apartment building where the aged woman had lived with Mrs. Ruth Townsend, her daughter, and Miss Marian Townsend her grand daughter.

The finding of Mrs. Chamberlain's body followed a search that has baffled the police and detectives since Monday. Until she told her story to a Herald and Examiner reporter, Miss Townsend and her mother also had steadfastly refused to tell anything whatever about what happened to Mrs. Chamberlain. Both women would only say that Mrs. Chamberlain was "happy in love."

"We did not kill grandmother," Miss Townsend said. "She was not murdered. She died a natural death on a cot."

"We buried her under a geranium bed in the rear of the apartment building where we lived. Our motives were the highest in the world. The death of my mother's mother, nor the method of the laying away her remains, could interest anybody in the world except us two."

WITHDRAW TROOPS FROM COUNTY OF WEST VIRGINIA

For First Time Since November Mingo County Normal.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williams, W. Va., Feb. 16.—The fourth week of the "trigger trial" opened today with Mingo county without federal troops for the first time since November.

At the very hour of court opening a special train left Williams, filled with the men of Company G, 19th Infantry, bound for Camp Sherman, Ohio, whence they came three months ago with three other companies to check the wave of violence that swept Mingo county as a result of the bitter warfare between the United Mine Workers of America and the coal operators.

This town is now patrolled by state police, under command of Colonel Jackson Arnold.

Allen Johnson, a railroadman, was the first witness today. He testified he saw Sid Hatfield, chief of police of Matewan and principal defendant, "jerk" the body of Albert Felts, Hatfield, according to the witness, had Felts' pocket book in his hand.

EXPECT COUNSEL WILL SUM UP

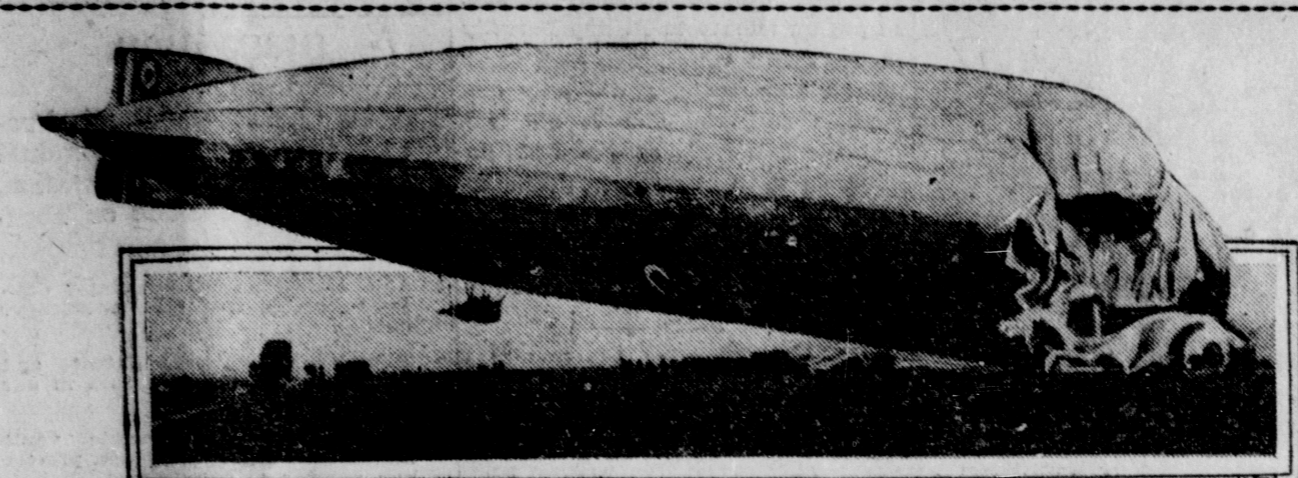

Cleveland, O., Feb. 16.—Omitting much of the useless testimony offered at the former trial, both prosecution and defense have so effectively speeded up the present hearing of Judge William H. McGannoh, under indictment in connection with the death of Harold C. Kagy, that presentation of the evidence will end today and immediately thereafter counsel for the state will begin his summing up.

Harry Du Rocher, an alibi witness, and the defendant are the only witnesses yet to be heard for the defense. Prosecutor Stanton thus far has not indicated that he will offer any witnesses in rebuttal.

FARMER HELD UP.

Marion, O., Feb. 16.—Late last night, M. C. Mullen, farmer, residing west of Marion, was held up by two men when en route home and robbed of $1,200.

BRITISH AIRSHIP, R-34, WECKED BY STORM

The great British airship R-34 being rapidly battered to pieces by the gale at Howden, England. The big dirigible is now a total wreck as a result of the severe bumping in the high wind. Arriving at Howden after a service flight, it was found impossible to take the big ship into its shed, and she was moored in the open. Had a mooring mast been provided it is probable the big ship would have ridden out the terrific gale.

WILL ATTEMPT TO SET NEW RECORD

Minneapolis, Feb. 16.—In an effort to break the world's endurance record for sustained flight, Lieut. Ross C. Kirkpatrick and Max Goodenough, a mechanic, ascended from Mitchell field here in an Eagle biplane at 7:34 a. m. today.

CONSTABULARY BILL IS KILLED BY THE HOUSE

Measure Is Sent To the Agricultural Committee.

TAFT BILL PASSES

Fishermen's License Act Tabled In House When It Is Up.

Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—By a vote of 101 to 16, the house is believed to have killed the Harding state constabulary bill by sending the measure to the agricultural committee when the bill was called up for a vote on the question of passage. This action was taken on motion of Rep. Harding. It is believed the bill would have been defeated if a vote had been recorded on the question of passage.

On motion of the author, the Harding bill seeking to regulate employment of strike breakers was recommended to the committee on agriculture.

The Taft emergency bill authorizing cities to issue deficiency bonds to meet current expenses, having passed both senate and house, now goes to the governor. Although passing the Bing bill authorizing transfer of $500,000 from the state highway fund to the common school fund in anticipation of school revenues to be paid in June and distributed in August, the house rendered the measure practically worthless by defeating the emergency clause by which the measure cannot become effective in time to serve its purpose.

The house defeated the Atwood fishermen's license bill by tabling it when it came up for passage.

Unanimously, the senate committee on benevolent institutions voted to indefinitely postpone further action on the Miller bill which seeks to repeal the law under which the Bucyrus site was purchased by the state board of administration for the proposed state institution for feeble minded.

This subject, however, is expected to reach the state supreme court. The board of administration has presented to State Auditor Tracy vouchers totalling $385,850, the purchase price for the land, made payable to J. J. Stafford, Marion real estate dealer. Tracy said he won't pay unless advised by Attorney General Price to do so. In view of Gov. Davis' opposition to the purchase, it is expected the attorney general will advise the state auditor not to pay. Stafford is expected to file a mandamus suit in supreme court in an effort to get the money.

POLICE SEEK MOTIVE FOR DIAL TRAGEDY

Newton, Ill., Feb. 16.—Police today are seeking the motive for a tragedy that has aroused this section of the country and which resulted in the death of F. H. Robertson, wealthy real estate man, and Charles Sutton, a grain broker. Robertson shot and killed Sutton and then shot himself, the wound proving fatal four hours later.

The only clue to the motive for the shooting has been found in the hysterical sobbing of Sutton's wife. "I knew it would come," she sobbed. "He's been brooding over it for weeks."

EVEN IN BURMA

Rangoon, British India, Feb. 16.—The Legislative Council of Burma passed a resolution demanding votes for women. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

AMERICA MUST CONSERVE ITS CREDIT SYSTEM

Governor Harding Of Federal Reserve Board Sounds Warning

U. S. POSITION GOOD

Nation Should Take Steps To Guard Against Grave Trouble

Washington, Feb. 16.—Congress was today warned that the government's credit must be conserved and the basis of American prosperity protected, if European economic pitfalls are to be avoided. The danger signal was hoisted by Governor W. P. G. Harding of the federal reserve board. Governor Harding submitted to congress his annual report upon the operations of the federal reserve system. He traced the commercial reactions of the past and present, the upsets due to the war load now being borne by the government.

Governor Harding told congress that although the entire world has been shaken by commercial and financial upheaval, with disturbances still pronounced in many countries, the United States is much stronger in financial resources and "much more self contained" today than any other country on the globe.

Care Should Be Taken
"But however great the economic strength of the United States should be, it should be remembered that the country's expenditures during war and the very profound modifications which have occurred in its economic system have had such far-reaching results, as to make it imperative that the utmost care be taken to conserve our credit and protect the basis of our prosperity if we are to avoid the extreme conditions which prevail in other countries," said Harding.

Citing the financial chaos now existing in many countries, Governor Harding said the solvency and financial stability of some of them depend in a large measure upon the United States.

Governor Harding thereby pointed the way to a more vigorous handling by this government of some of its foreign debtors. His intimation was strong that the great need abroad at the moment is the adoption of national measures of "self help."

Tracing the steps through the acute stage of transition from "war time delirium to normal conditions of peace," Governor Harding observed that the United States has suffered least of all world powers. The effects of readjustments, he said, have been more drastic in other countries, notably European nations, where inflation of bank credit and currency was more pronounced than in the United States.

EMERGENCY TARIFF HOLDS ATTENTION OF UPPER HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 16.—Once again the emergency tariff bill, staggering under the weight of 57 varieties of amendments engaged the attention of the senate today.

Senator Penrose, Republican of Pennsylvania, professed the utmost confidence in the fulfillment of his prediction that the bill would be passed by midnight.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic minority leader, was not so sanguine. He said the measure would "probably" be passed by midnight.

It was the intention of Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, to keep the senate in session until midnight, if necessary, in order to force a final vote, he announced.

Many amendments are yet to be acted upon before final vote can be taken, and some Republican leaders were exerting every possible pressure to get rid of the bill in the hope of breaking the existing legislative job, and thereby secure early action on some of the still pending appropriation bills.

GERMANY TO REFUSE 42 YEARS SLAVERY

Berlin, Feb. 16.—"No German statesman dare sign the German people into forty two years of slavery and therefore we must refuse to accept the allies' indemnity terms," declared Dr. Walter Simons, the German foreign minister in an address before the Baden Landtag at Karlsruhe today.

TRAIN JUMPS TRACK
Mobile, Ala., Feb. 16.—Fast mail train No. 1, on the Mobile and Ohio St. Louis to Mobile, jumped the track at Escoba, Miss., today. First reports say none were killed, but several injured. Two or three coaches are in the ditch.

EXPECT TAX COMMISSION WILL REVOKE ORDER FOR REAL ESTATE REAPPRAISAL

Citizens' Taxation Committee Of Which O. E. Bradfute Is a Member Confers With Governor Davis On Permanent Taxation System.

Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—Taxation matters are being considered today by state officials.

The Griswold debt limitation resolution and the tax bill providing for temporary suspension of the limitations of the Smith one percent tax for the purpose of affording temporary financial relief to cities are scheduled to be called up for passage in the house this afternoon.

The state tax commission is expected to revoke its order for a reappraisal of real estate in sixty counties. Gov. Davis has announced that he does not believe reappraisal should be made before a scientific and equitable taxing system has been worked out. The governor said that in counties where a reappraisal has been made, it is too big and sentimental for a reduction of taxation values, the proper county officials should immediately make a downward valuation.

DEATH OF CARUSO EXPECTED; SINGER IS CRITICALLY ILL

Complications Follow Attack of Pleurisy In New York.

New York, Feb. 16.—Enrico Caruso, who has cheered and entertained thousands with his golden voice which has been termed the most perfect tenor ever known, was hovering between life and death today.

With five doctors in attendance and all known remedies and scientific aids to combat death at their disposal, Caruso, who so often has taken the tragic and heroic parts in the mimic life of the opera stage was fighting for his life this afternoon.

Caruso suffered a sharp relapse early today and two priests, the Rev. Father Joseph Congedo and the Rev. Father E. E. Molinari—were called into the sick room to administer extreme unction. The last rites of the Roman Catholic church were performed when the great tenor seemed to be dying.

Although his vitality was fast ebbing Caruso was conscious and was not suffering acute pain, according to his secretary, Bruno Sirato. Mrs. Caruso was with her husband and the singer's son by a previous marriage, Enrico Caruso, Jr., has been hastily summoned from his school in Culver, Ind.

Caruso bore up bravely and feebly said farewell to friends who were admitted to the sick room.

Just before daybreak the patient seemed to rally and to brighten.

Three doctors were in active attendance at the bedside throughout the night and two others were in consultation. Oxygen was administered at regular intervals by Dr. Philip Horowitz, the regular physician of the Carusa family assisted by his colleagues.

Caruso was originally stricken on the night of Dec. 9, while singing in "Pagliacci." Two operations were later performed and the lungs were drained. Both there said to have been successful.

Announcement was made at 9:30 o'clock this morning that Caruso seemed to be rallying. A consultation of doctors will be held at 11 o'clock.

NATIONAL MEETING OF WOMEN VOTERS OPENS AT CAPITOL

Political Future Of Woman's Party To Be Decided.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The first national convention of women voters since the suffrage amendment was ratified opened here today. Called together by the officers of the National Woman's Party, the convention meets to wind up the long suffrage campaign and to decide upon the political future of the woman's party.

After the convention is called to order by Alice Paul, national chairman, Miss Mabel Boardman, only woman commissioner of the District of Columbia, will welcome the delegates. Most of today's session will be devoted to reports of national officers of the woman's party.

JOHN M. GOOD OF SPRINGFIELD DIES

Springfield, Feb. 16.—John M. Good, 67, recognized as a leader in rose culture, died this morning. For years he was a leader in the dry cause, and was a former mayor of Springfield. He was president of the Good and Rees Company, one of the largest rose growing firms in the United States.

BOYHOOD DREAM REALIZED IN PLAN

who are depending on their own labors for board and tuition. "The accomplishment of college years is an accomplishment in the matter of theory. The civil engineer, for instance, when he graduates, is fairly well fitted in the theory of his job but doesn't know what it means when he comes up against a real job. The student in this case has to be nursed quite a time before being able to tackle a big job."

Mr. Morgan explained the plan of operation for Antioch will be the cooperative system, with students going to school half of time and working the other half. The object of this plan is two-fold, one to assist the student to make his way through school and the other to give him the practical education with the theoretical. "There is nothing more stupid than to imitate other people," said Mr. Morgan. "Little colleges also must have individuality and originality. If the little colleges are going to get anywhere they must be individualistic."

"We have undertaken to train students at Antioch to be administrators or managers," said the speaker. "rather than employees. They will have to be up on practice, as well as theory. In the machine shop course, students will be prepared to become proprietors and managers. There is a large field for well equipped and well operated machine shops. The students will probably start the first year as laborers in the shop, then they will take up organization the second year, costs and accounting, and later other branches of administration, until in six years he has acquainted himself with the principal elements that make up an industry. You can not teach responsibility out of a book, you have to get it in theory."

Mr. Morgan explained in this manner several of the practical courses to be taken up and said the board was hunting the country over for faculty of men of high standing character and outlook and explained that the new idea was departing from the conventional in the curriculum. "Education must lead one to the mastery of principles rather than the retention of facts," he said. "We must get possession of the faculties of trained thinking. It will be a long hard, pull for Antioch," said the new president. "I had no thought of Antioch until I saw in the paper I had been made a trustee. I know of no college in the United States that would suit me better than Antioch however," he added.

The Rev. Charles Proudfoot, was toastmaster at the February banquet and introduced Mr. Morgan, following the banquet served by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany.

MODERN PUBLIC SCHOOLS DISCUSSED BY CLUB

"The Modern Public Schools" with the Xenia schools given as an example of the new method of instruction, was the topic chosen for the discussion at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Club, Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting Tuesday was held at the home of Mrs. Milton McKay on West Market street. The first paper of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Steele Poague upon "Bernard Shaw," Two delightful vocal solos, "A Necklace of Love," and "The Summer Wind" were given by Mrs. William H. McGervey.

The discussion of the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Robert Bryson, assisted by Mrs. Reed Madden and Miss Flora Nisbet. Mrs. Bryson took for her part of the topic the modern schools of Cary, Indiana, and spoke of how these methods are being introduced in this city. Mrs. Madden and Miss Nisbet presented Xenia's plan of education, and especially emphasized the progress of the new Opportunity School. Instruction in the local high schools, and the development of new ideas were discussed. Future plans in the Xenia City Schools were presented during the discussion.

ENTERTAIN WITH 500 PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Morton entertained a company of friends at their home on Chestnut and High streets, at 500, Tuesday evening. Their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. James Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bath, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith and Miss Olivia Cost and Mr. Cox.

Prizes for the highest score were won by Mrs. Joseph Kennedy and Mrs. James Savage.

The guests were served a salad course during the evening.

ENTERTAINERS MEMBERS OF SORORITY

Miss Dorothy Zell was hostess to members of the Phi Gamma Epsilon Sorority at her home on West Market street, Tuesday evening. Following a business meeting of the Sorority, the guests sewed and danced. A light luncheon was served by Miss Zell.

SIGNS OF SPRING APPARENT DURING PAST TWO DAYS

Spring is nigh! Soon the signs that tell the city dweller that it is spring, will be appearing in the newspapers.

There will be the first robin in Kankakee, the spring mushroom in Kokomo, the barefoot boy in Keokuk, the summer cars in Kalamazoo, the breaking of the ice in Canada, the baseball training camps in Kansas, daylight saving in Connecticut, spring floods in the Carolinas, the cry of the huckster in Columbus.

The tired business man will carry home a garden rake, the chorus girl will bring out her summer furs, the kids will be appearing at the table with soiled knuckles, back yard fence conversation will pick up steam like a revolution in Jauvez.

These are signs that the city dweller reads in his steam-heated flat, with the snow falling outside, that tell him that spring is nigh. Even here the girls are going without hats and merchants are leaving their front doors open.

Two days of spring dropped in the middle of a month habitually and uncommonly disagreeable, has tended to make the whole world kin. The indications of a warm April rain, Wednesday afternoon however aroused suspicions of the length of the warm spell.

CONTINUE CASES ENJOINING TAXES

Hearing of the suits enjoining the collection of special assessments for street improvements continued before Judge Clevenger of Wilmington Wednesday.

The five cases which were begun Tuesday morning hung over until Wednesday, when hearing on them was resumed. Although more time is being given them than the calendar first allowed, it is thought they will be a big deciding factor in deciding the balance of the cases.

Attorneys for both sides continued their arguments on these five cases, until 10:30, when Judge Clevenger adjourned court to a recess until one o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the hearing was resumed.

DE VALERA COMPLAINS OF IRISH TREATMENT

Dublin, Feb. 16.—A bitter attack against the manner in which "British troops are waging warfare in Ireland," was made in a public message addressed to all members of the British parliament today by Eamonn DeValera, "president of the Irish Republic."

ROBERT BIRD OF CEDARVILLE ILL AT MCLELLAN HOSPITAL

Robert Bird of Cedarville who underwent an operation for mastoid trouble at the McClellan Hospital, several days ago, is in a serious condition. His two sons, Fred Bird of Chicago and Harry Bird of Philadelphia, have been called to this city on account of his condition.

CALL ON WILSON FOR STATEMENT OF U. S. WAR FUNDS

Washington, Feb. 16.—After heated debate the house late yesterday adopted a resolution calling upon President Wilson for an itemized statement showing disbursements and allotments of the $150,000,000 war funds voted by Congress.

The resolution, which was adopted 211 to 79, was attacked by Democrats, who charged it was put forward at this time to defame and malign President Wilson in the closing days of his administration. Reference to expenditures by the American peace commission at Paris fanned the flames on the Democratic side and turned the debate into strictly partisan channels.

Chairman Good of the appropriations committee, who reported the resolution introduced by Representative Gould, Republican, New York, declared if any injustice had been done the president, the Democrats were responsible, by attempting to create the impression in the money spending when the resolution itself did not intimate that there had been anything improper. Good declined to offer an amendment calling upon various government departments for an accounting which was the method adopted, Democrats stated, in asking for an accounting of Spanish war funds in President McKinley's day.

Hotel Expenses Attacked. Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, attacked reported expenditures of the peace commission at the Hotel Crillon in Paris, calling attention specifically to an item of $125,000 for damage to the hotel property. He said he did not know if chandeliers were in the damaged list or what hour in the morning they might have been broken.

"The acting secretary of state was unable to give details of the Paris expenditure," Rogers said. "Wages of hotel employees amounted to $131,000 and we had to pay for their food. There was another item of $14,000 for automobiles, when the streets of Paris were overrun with American cars. Confidential expenses of the presidential party were put down at $17,534. Why should there be confidential expenses of a president, the president to negotiate on the part of the people a treaty of peace?"

Representative Byrnes, South Carolina, and Dewalt, Pennsylvania, Democrats, bitterly assailed the resolution, Byrnes insisting that Congress after the Spanish war "did not attempt to insult McKinley."

COLORED LOCAL TALENT SHOW IS RATED HIGH CLASS

"A Count of No Account" a musical comedy in two acts presented by a large cast at the Opera House Tuesday night for the benefit of St. John's A. M. E. church, won expressions from the audience that claimed for it the title of the best colored local talent show given here for some time.

The cast was directed by Carl Scott and James E. Watts, the latter a clever colored comedian, who had a principal part in the show. In the cast were William O. Rickman, Esther Ward, Loyd Clark, Ruby Martin, Robert Braxton, Goldie Douglas, Jas. E. Watts, Edwin Howard, William Johnson, Nathaniel Scurry, Cecilia Ward, Harley Ward and Clifford Marsh, besides a large chorus, and a number who took part in singing, dancing and acrobatic novelties.

New song hits were introduced in the show and were cleverly sung by the performers. Raymond Goodin singing "Sometime" and his twin brother Ralph, with the snappy melody LaVeada, and supported by the chorus, were both big hits, and won much applause, as did others of the musical numbers. The presentation of the piece showed careful direction and long practice.

A packed house greeted the local talent performance, a neat sum being realized for the church.

"IS GRANDEST ON EARTH" SHE SAYS

"Tanlac Proved Wonderful in My Case" Says Cincinnati Woman.

"Tanlac has proved so wonderful in my case that two of my family are now taking it with splendid results, and we all just think it the grandest medicine ever made," declared Mrs. Mary Shannon, highly respected resident of 3112 Walworth Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"My condition certainly looked hopeless until last April when I got Tanlac, but it didn't take this medicine long to put an end to my troubles. I suffered for over two years with an awful case of stomach trouble, and the indigestion and bloating were almost unbearable. After eating I had dreadful pains and a terrible depressed feeling in my stomach, and at night was so restless I couldn't sleep well. I also had complications that required an operation last July, and it left me in such a weak, rundown condition that I could hardly get about and was very much worried about myself.

"However, since taking Tanlac, I feel like an entirely different person, for I can eat anything I want without a sign of indigestion or stomach trouble and have already gained nine pounds in weight. I sleep good and sound every night, am feeling just fine and owe my good health entirely to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. Finley, Bowersville, N. K. Bow-ermeister; Fairfield, Paul P. Young, Osborn, C. J. Logsdon; New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

LAST OF "JERSEY MUSKETEERS" NOW IN SCHOOLROOM

John Wisniewski, thirteen years old, a veteran of two wars, possessor of a decoration for valor and boasting four wounds received in action, must return to school. And, worst of all, John must return to the class second grade, in a Newark, N. J., school, which he left four years ago to go to war. He made his way to the waterfront and there made the acquaintance of two other youngsters, John Urazinski, eight and Roman Szedlowski, eleven. They watched the embarkation of Polish-American troops for the war zone. They decided to join the troops and boarded the transport. Then began the thrilling adventures of the three tiny "Jersey Musketeers," which cost Urazinski and Szedlowski their lives. The youngsters received their baptism of fire on the Champagne. Urazinski was killed there and Szedlowski died in the Soviet drive at Warsaw.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS MME. WIESIKE IN LOCAL CONCERT

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Mme. Lillian Wiesike of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, who gave a delightful and varied song recital at the First United Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening.

Charming in appearance, gracious in manner, and the possessor of a beautiful soprano voice Mme. Wiesike won her hearers with her first group of songs. These included: "Il Mio Bel Fuoco," by Marcello; "Quel Ruscelletto," by Paradisi; Haendels, "O, Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me," and Chantons Les Amours," an old French folk song of the 18th century.

The second group comprised: "Souvenir," by Remberg; "Pastoral," by Bizet; Rimsky Korskov's well known "Chanson Indienne" and "Mandoline," by Debussy. The lyric qualities of Mme. Wiesike's voice were displayed to especial advantage in the two numbers by Brahms, "May Night" and "Serenade" with which she opened her third group. These were followed by "Mosses' Magic Verse" by Wolf, a charmingly light and playful selection which met with so much applause that the singer repeated it, and "Serenade" by Strauss. The fourth and last group gave the artist an opportunity to show her dramatic ability in the numbers, "Crying of the Waters," by Campbell-Lipton; "The Last Hour," by Walter Kramer and "Bird of the Wilderness," by Honsman. In a lighter vein, "Lucky Picking Mulberries," by Edgar Stulman-Kesley introduced a theme which the composer, brought from San Francisco's Chinatown and which was emphasized in a distinctive manner in the accompaniment. The audience expressed its appreciation so cordially that Mme. Wiesike responded to two encores. "Therese Exquisite," by Reynolds Hahn and "Life" by Pearl Curran.

Mme. Wiesike's voice is clear and bell like in quality and shows the effect of the excellent training she has received. Her high notes are especially pure and delicate though her voice is pleasing in all registers. The audience particularly appreciated her distinct enunciation which enabled them to follow her songs with ease. The singer was suffering from a severe cold but overcame the resulting difficulties admirably.

Mrs. Fern Sherman, as accompanist supported the singer in a thoroughly sympathetic manner, after the concert, she favored the members of the Music Club with a brilliant rendition of one of Lodiard's Concert Etudes.

The hearty appreciation which the audience gave the performers and the loyal support afforded the Woman's Music Club in its efforts to bring good music to Xenia will encourage the club to undertake further professional concerts in the future, it is believed.

DOESN'T GET UP NIGHTS ANY MORE

Bladder Normal, Says This Dayton Man, Was Relieved by Simple Treatment

Mr. Julius Mayer, 1430 East Fifth St., Dayton, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Daily News "For two years my bladder caused me to get up many times at night and too frequently in the day. After taking a few doses of lithiated buchu my bladder works perfectly normal and can sleep all night.

Lithiated buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder as Epsom Salts do on the bowels. You will be surprised at the impurities which come from the bladder, after taking a few doses of lithiated buchu. It is not a patent medicine as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are necessary to give prompt relief. It is not likely that you have ever taken a remedy similar to this. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine frequent desire gravel or other deposits of the bladder.

You can see the formula and learn more about lithiated buchu at Sayre and Hemphill's drug store and drug stores everywhere.

WOMEN CONTINUALLY OVERDO This applies to all women, regardless of caste or color. The ambitious girl striving for school honors, the overworked housewife, the shop girl, girls in offices and stores, and the society woman, all climb too high, overtax their strength, and what follows. Nervous prostration, sleeplessness, backache, headache, and the inevitable weakness and ailments peculiar to their sex soon develop, which unless checked bring on more serious conditions, and which often lead to operations. An efficient restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is now recognized from coast to coast as a standard remedy for woman's ills.

THE SOUTH AFRICA ELECTION SPEAKS WELL FOR ENGLAND'S MANAGEMENT.

The result of the election in South Africa will confound those who have been loud in proclaiming that the British empire is a string of trading posts held in unwilling bondage, and that a free expression of the will of the people would dissolve the whole system.

Not only have the people of the Union of South Africa voted to remain a part of the empire, but this expression comes in great part from a people who twenty years ago were enemies of Britain with arms in their hands. The leading imperialist whose devotion to the interests of the people of South Africa is beyond question, is General Smuts, who fought Britain when he had no means of knowing what British administration would mean for the Boers, but who has been uncompromisingly for the empire since he found out its rule was mild just and beneficial to his countrymen.

The decision thus expressed must go far to subdue the clamor that has been raised, from a variety of motives, about self determination, a mischievous phrase of war origin. The Union of South Africa has had a high degree of local self government, as has every part of the British empire that has shown itself capable of self government. Separation from the empire, even if that could have been brought about without war between the states of the union, or with Britain, could bring nothing in the way of independent political action which the people of the union do not now enjoy. Yet there was a nationalist party, formed of many elements, that the self determination agitation had lent encouragement to, and this party, which drew some strength from Boer irreconcilables, made a strong appeal to the independence sentiment. That is an appeal sure of a hearing wherever people happen to live at a great distance from the seat of political power, especially if that power resides in another race. Why should they be governed from across seas, they ask. In a mixed population like that of South Africa, British, Boers and natives, the agitation of this question might easily have become disturbing.

That it has met settlement in the sweeping victory of the imperialists speaks a decisive word for British rule. If that rule had been oppressive, if it had been exercised less in the interests of the people of South Africa than of those of Britain, or of any class of Britons, the result must have been different. The election must have gone strongly the other way.

In a word, South Africa is loyal to the empire because the empire has been loyal to South Africa, and nobody who really understands the British imperial system and its workings, and who speaks without prejudice, can deny that what the system does for South Africa it does for every other part of the empire. If it didn't the empire couldn't exist.

PADEREWSKI SAYS HIS PIANO-PLAYING CAREER IS AT AN END.

The professional piano-playing career of the world-famous Paderewski is at an end.

The distinguished Polish musician, whose artistry at the piano has delighted the music lovers of two continents for more than a generation, announced his retirement from the concert stage upon his arrival in New York on Sunday, on the steamship France.

"Piano-playing is a closed chapter in my life, although I may do some composing later," Ignace Jan Paderewski declared, when asked if he would resume his musical career.

Five years of hard mental labor in the field of international politics in behalf of his native Poland have left their imprint on his physical appearance. Old age and worry have whitened the long and bushy hair of his head, which countless thousands of persons have seen waving back and forth as he kept time with the music produced by his magic hands, while the lines in his face have deepened and the sparkle in his eyes has dimmed.

The artist-statesman, who is accompanied by his wife, will pass a few days at rest and then visit Pittsburgh, where he will address a Polish gathering on Washington's Birthday, after which he will go to his ranch in California for a long rest.

Since the war he has traveled from coast to coast in this country and from capital to capital in Europe in the interest of Poland's liberation and economic rehabilitation.

After the signing of the armistice he returned to Europe and landed at Danzig in January, 1919, on a British destroyer. He received a tumultuous welcome. His popularity with the masses led to his selection as Poland's first premier and its principal spokesman at the peace conference in Versailles. His ministry lasted less than a year.

One of America's leading statesmen, Col. E. M. House, in speaking of Paderewski's coming to America, gives to him the following flattering notice:

Of all the soldiers and statesmen who had to do with the world war, none stirred the imagination more than Paderewski or deserved better of his native land. When Europe was tearing herself to pieces this artist-statesman was formulating plans which later were to mold again his beloved country into a harmonious whole. Sensing in advance of others of his kind that America would play the leading part before the world tragedy closed, it was here that he put forth his greatest endeavors; and it was here that he gathered his compatriots and planned a campaign which gave to the Poles freedom. Along with those of us who had faith in him and the justice of his cause, he drew the boundaries which later the Versailles conference adopted and through which the cherished aspirations of his people were realized. It was a great dream of a great man come true, and we of America count it a privilege to join Poland in homage to her noblest son, Ignace Jan Paderewski.

GIOVANNI MORELLI

February 16, 1816.

Giovanni Morelli, Italian patriot and art critic, was born at Verona he returned to Italy upon completion and educated all over Europe. When of his studies, he became associated with a band of patriots who were trying to free Italy from the oppressive Austrian rule. He took part in the war of 1848, and though he never became a great leader or great politician, his influence was always felt and he caused one law to be passed, that has had an enormous effect. This was a law forbidding the sale of works of art from public and religious institutions.

But it is not particularly as a leader of men that he is known in his fame rests upon his work as an art critic. He originated a new method of studying the old masters. This was not to go by what had been written on works of art, but to study them and find out about them from themselves.

For instance, he noticed that one artist had a certain way of drawing hands or ears or of using lights and shadows, which other artist did not possess. In this way the could definitely attribute pictures to various old masters. He knew also the characteristics peculiar to each master, which pupils or imitators could not quite reproduce. Knowing all this he could tell genuine paintings from false ones or copies.

Because of this knowledge his influence on art has been enormous since he began studying it from an entirely different angle. He lived until 1891 and wrote a great many books on the study and criticism of Italian paintings.

OUR EVENING GOWN

If the evening frocks this winter have been very light and filmy, those promised for next spring are even more diaphanous. And the summer frocks are as filmy as could be imagined. They are mostly made of organdy, chiffon or voile; they are short-sleeved or sleeveless and are generally cut rather low. All the afternoon and evening gowns shown for southern wear—which will, of course, set the fashion for next summer—either leave the arms and shoulders bare, or cover them very slightly.

So it is imperative that every woman look to her arms and shoulders and make sure that they are as pretty as she can make them. I do not mean that the woman who is hopelessly thin need be out of fashion, for styles are always adaptable for every type. But some of these transparent frocks are so pretty that I know every young woman will want to be able to wear them.

If you are too thin, you cannot have pretty arms and shoulders unless you increase your weight. If you are too stout, you must, of course, reduce to possess lines of beauty. If you are round-shouldered, you must straighten up. The best way to acquire beautiful arms and shoulders is to exercise and to stand straight.

One splendid exercise for overcoming round shoulders is as follows: Lie flat on the floor, with the arms along the sides of your body. Slowly open them out, keeping them always so they touch the floor, and bring them over the head. Return to your original position. This exercise practically every muscle down the back and it raises the chest. It should be done about 25 times, twice a day, that is about 50 times altogether.

THE SOREHEAD.

For years I went to Grocer Gregg's to buy my prunes and cheese and eggs; I went ten thousand times, or more, and wore a path around his store, till every board I could reach, and every nailhead in the wall. And when each month of trade was done, I always paid him hand made mon, and never said "Please chalk it down until my goat comes back to town." Then, for a change, I bought my goods, my prunes and cheese, at Grocer Wood's. I thought I'd trade there for a while, since change of base is all the style, and then return to Gregg's once more as in the festive days of yore. But, meeting Gregg upon the street, and giving him a greeting sweet, he handed me a frozen stare, as grouchy as a grizzly bear. Oh, he was sore and full of bile because I left him for a while; he seemed to think he owned my soul and had a mortgage on my roll. The good old years will roll away, and whiskers red will change to gray, and dynasties will rise and burst and bow-wows turn to wienerwurst before I go to Gregg's again to blow my hard-earned iron men. The merchants in this world of ours should always speak their thoughts with flowers; if they express their thoughts with bricks they drive off patrons by such tricks.

SHAMROCKS WIN OVER SPRINGFIELD

The Xenia Shamrocks came out on the long end of the count in the game with the Springfield K. of C. at the Rink Tuesday night defeating the visitors 39-27 in a well played contest.

It was the first defeat the Springfield quintet has suffered this season, the five man defense of the locals proving too powerful a defensive combination for their opponents. The first half was particularly close, the locals leading by a 15-14 score at the end of the initial period. Their basket shooting proclivities were more in evidence in the last chapter, when they slipped away from the dangerously close score.

"Yank" Stephens. Horen and Muterspaw shone brightly in the lineup of the locals. Lineup and summary: was released.

The spinal nerves leave the spine at a point between joints, and when any of the 24 movable joints of the backbone are out of alignment, it narrows the nerve exit, and causes pressure on spinal nerves which interferes with impulse transmission and causes disease. Chiropractic spinal adjustments in the hands of a skilled practitioner restore nerve freedom, and health follows as a matter of course. The finest preventive to disease old age or premature death, is periodical spinal adjustments.

Weekly Market Review

Prices have lost their balance. Wide discrepancies exist between the purchasing power of different groups and the prices paid for different commodities. Equilibrium, not only as within the nation, but as between nations.

The farmer may congratulate himself that his products have hit bottom or are near it in most instances that he has experienced the worst, although temporarily he suffers most unjustly. Deflation will extend to wages and more thoroughly to retail prices. Otherwise, farm prices will recover ground. For, as one eastern authority remarks, "If the workers in other industries might continue full time at the rates they have been receiving, they would enjoy great benefits from the decline in farm products but that is impossible because their products cannot be sold upon such terms."

The action of Congress looking toward a sharp reduction in the army coincides with the farmer's well-known views on economy in government expenditures and on the whole question of armament. The United States does not need a large standing army. It can call in times of need upon its millions of patriotic citizens a fair proportion of whom should receive training in the use of arms and be capable of training others. A large military establishment, and likewise a colossal navy is an extravagance in which the present condition of the treasury and the tax burden do not permit the nation to indulge.

Pressure on agricultural commodities has increased the probabilities of passage of the emergency tariff bill. Wages have declined but slightly, retail prices are still high, and the farm markets have plumbed new depths. Congressmen feel more inclined to afford the farmer emergency protection than a month ago. The Senate raised the duty on wheat as prescribed by the House from 30 to 40 cents. Other committee amendments have stood. The raising tide in favor of the emergency tariff bill attests the power and usefulness of organization, for were it not for the activities of the farm organizations, the bill would probably have died a natural death in the committee room.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the American Institute of Meat Packers have started a campaign against the Federal livestock bill, presumably because they believe it would substitute government for private control of the meat industry. The Chamber stands ready to combat at any time the principle of government control as applied to industry, and sees in the livestock bill the beginnings of a policy that might extend to all industry. Business men are apt to hold that government control is necessarily inefficient and corrupt. Were its control of the livestock industry to constitute a striking refutation of this claim, government control might easily extend to the coal industry, had it not already done so, and to other industries engaged in handling basic raw materials or in giving indispensable public service.

The wisest course for business is to "cleanhouse" and thereby make government control unnecessary, or if it be judged preferable to private control in some instances, lend it their wholehearted support and make it efficient. The conservatives need not fear that the sober, democratic citizens of the United States will soon commit themselves to a Socialistic state.

Stocks
If the stock market can maintain its present level with minor variations, even if it does not begin an upward swing for some time, it will nevertheless convey reasonable assurance as to the future of business for its resistance to bearish pressure will discount great activity in industry three to six months hence. Never was the market scrutinized more closely as a barometer of business. No signs of cheap money are in evidence, although the recent stringency in call money should prove but a cross-current at variance with the trend toward relaxation, judging from reliable financial indexes. The time manifestly has not come for a rapid increase of speculative loans and holdings. Liquidation of stocks held as investments through force of necessity has greatly diminished. Dullness and the presence of reactionary tendencies quite probably will characterize the market for some weeks to come.

Grain

Farmers are anxiously waiting for a definite turn in the grain markets. Argentine and Australian competition, credit limitations, and general business depression preclude any material advance in the near future, it would seem. On the other hand, grains have so depreciated that the farmer cannot buy the products of manufacturing industry. Either he must sell for more or buy for less. Corn, oats, and rye look cheap, at 67c and oats at 43c. Reports of the new winter wheat crop are cheering, though not unmixed. Talk of damage will begin earlier than usual, owing to the mild winter, it is expected.

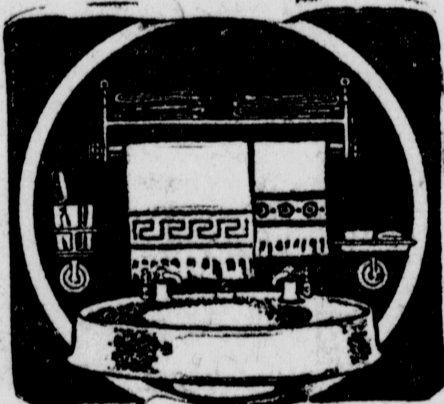

Flour is feeling the competition of foodstuffs such as potatoes that are relatively cheaper than wheat. Doubtless the farmers will continue holding all the grain they can, as they have much to gain and little to lose.

Livestock

Cheap pork, unseasonable weather and industrial depression have greatly depressed the beef and mutton trade, producing a congestion in the live animal markets. Demand for stocker cattle and feeder lambs suffered correspondingly. During the three and one-half months since October prime fat steers at Chicago declined from $18.50 to $10, the most remarkable decline in the memory of traders. Liquidation of cattle will probably continue during February, as growers are anxious to obtain cash for stuff ready to butcher. The calf market is inherently weak. Hogs have met good demand at steady to advancing prices. The January movement was heavy although less than a year or two years ago. Stocks of meat and lard at Chicago are less than a month ago. While below normal they are less than the trade requires. The prospect in live mutton is anything but bullish.

Cotton

The cotton market is full of go. Underlying conditions have not improved entirely lacking. Stocks are large and trade is sluggish. Various minor factors support or depress changed appreciably and bullish in the market, but do not succeed in giving it marked character. The movement to reduce acreage has gained fresh adherents in some quarters.

while financial stringency sometimes restricts intended planting operations. The slump in stocks and grain, high call rates, and unsatisfactory export totals all tend to bear the market and increase liquidation. Mill activity is apparently increasing.

Wool

Fair buying of wool is reported and prices show a noticeably firmer tendency here and abroad. The mill situation has not altered appreciably. Thirteen million pounds of foreign wool arrived at Boston recently, suggesting that importers are apprehensive of the emergency tariff bill. Current buying makes scant impression upon the world's enormous stocks of wool, which some critics think constitutes a two years' supply. Some domestic growers show themselves rather more disposed to sell than heretofore. The farmers' wool pools are holding tight, for the most part.

Metals

The pig iron market is lifeless with prices holding fairly well at recent low levels. Fortunately no large stocks have accumulated. Buying is hand-to-mouth. The steel industry shows a somewhat better tone, but the turn has not yet come and production is much restricted. The dependants show some inclination to elation to undercut the corporation. Copper is quiet.

WINGLESS AIRPLANE WHICH RISKS VIRTICALLY IS TESTED

The novel plane, showing the screw propellers.

Final tests have been completed successfully, according to experts present, on a flying machine which is a radical departure from present types and ideas. The plane has two pairs of horizontal blades which revolve in opposite directions. The machine can be made to rise vertically and then, by tilting the propellers, can be directed horizontally through the air. The plane has no wings. Herman Lohmeyer, now dead, conceived the idea. His three sons, Victor, Curtiss and William, perfected the plane. In the picture the propellers are set for a vertical rise.

ANNOUNCE CHANGES IN RULES GOVERNING THE COUNTY FAIR

All cattle entered at the County Fair this year must be tuberculin tested and hogs must be immune.

This ruling was made by the Greene County Agricultural Society at its meeting last Saturday in the court house when the rules and regulations governing the Fair were discussed.

The Fair this year which will be held August 2, 3, 4 and 5, will see some major changes in policy. Among the other decisions arrived at by the board are the following:

County exhibits, with the exception of livestock, will be admitted free of charge. Outside exhibitors must pay a nominal fee, thus protecting Greene county people.

Competition in all sweepstakes classes, has been stricken out of the Rules and Regulations.

All pedigrees when required will be left with the member in charge of the department instead of with the secretary.

Rates and wages, which were charged from a fixed amount per day, will be optional with the man in charge.

All soldiers and all children under 15 years of age will be admitted free to the Fair on Wednesday.

A spotted Poland China class has been placed in the premium list the same as the Poland China Class.

The Shorthorn Breeders' Association has been making an additional prize of $25.00, and the board has agreed to devote a like amount in this special class.

All county poultry will be admitted free. Others must pay a small fee.

To Superintendent Aultman, of the county schools, the board awarded $340.00 to be made up in prizes for the boys' and girls' club work.

The Grange was allotted $240.00 to be made up in premiums. Six Granges have already consented to enter in competition.

All boys' and girls' club members, competing at the Fair for prizes, will be admitted free.

Officers of the Greene County Agricultural Society are looking forward to a successful fair this year, and say that the changes in the rules will work a decided benefit.

The official personnel of the board consists of Milo Anderson, president; C. M. Anglin, Bellbrook, vice president; B. U. Bell, Xenia, treasurer; J. Robert Bryson, Xenia, secretary; W. C. Smith, New Burlington, assistant secretary.

The board announced that Wayne Oglesbee, of Bowersville, has been added to the cattle committee with L. B. Harner.

METEORS TO PLAY TEAM FROM DAYTON

Since the St. Brigid's Meteors broke their losing jinx by defeating the Piqua Triangles last week, they have regained considerable of their lost pep and confidence and are out to annex their ninth victory in the game with the Kiowa club of Dayton at the Rink Wednesday night.

This fact, coupled with the announcement that the Collins Brothers and the Brill Brothers will hook in a family basketball feud as the second ring of a double header at the Rink is an announcement that should be attractive. The Brill brothers who go under the name of the Beaver Cadets have been defeating the best in this section recently, but with the stars numbered among the Collins' roster, their air is bound to have their hands full in this battle. Referee Rachford will have charge of both contests, the first game starting at 7:45 o'clock.

$8,058,017 FOR DEFENSES
Washington, Feb. 16.—A total of $8,058,017 for fortifications and coast defenses is provided in an appropriation bill reported today by the house appropriation committee.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

Mrs. Hermine Z. Hansen, Akron, vice president of the Northwest district, has issued the first call of the eight district conferences of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs. The Northwest district conferences will be held at Kent, Friday and Saturday, March 11 and 12. The Kent Federation has extended the invitation not only to the 148 affiliation clubs in the district, but to those not affiliated. The conference will open the afternoon of Mar. 11 at the First Methodist church. That evening at 8 o'clock there will be a musical program, a noted speaker and a reception. The reception will be in honor of Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, president of the Ohio Federation, other state officers and guests.

The morning session of March 12 will be open at 9:15. Delegates will be allowed from three to five minutes for their reports. A written report should be filed with the secretary. Meals will be served Friday at 6 p. m. and Saturday at noon. Delegates and visitors will be entertained in private homes at reasonable rates. Delegates should notify Mrs. Evadne Kneifel, No. 413 East Summit street, if they desire reservations in private homes for Friday night and breakfast and also if they wish the two meals to be served by the committee in charge. Mrs. Kneifel is head of the committee on rooms and all reservations should be made by March 4.

Kent is in Portage county, twelve miles from Akron, and is reached by the Erie, Wheeling & Lake Erie, Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania, via Ravenna and N. O. T. line.

Ordinance No. 156

To issue notes in anticipation of the collection of the special assessments for the extension of sewer districts Nos. 2, 3, 5, and 6.

Be it ordained by the City Commission of the City of Xenia, Ohio, that:

Section 1. That notes of the City of Xenia, Ohio, be issued for the extension of sewer districts Nos. 2, 3, 5, and 6, in the sum of Fifty-Six Hundred Dollars ($5600); said sum being in accordance with the engineer's final estimate of the cost of property owners benefited by said improvement.

Section 2. Said notes are issued in anticipation of the collection of said assessments upon the property bounding and abutting on said improvement. Said notes shall be in the denomination of Five Hundred Dollars, and one note shall be in the sum of Six Hundred Dollars; shall state upon their face the purpose for which they are issued; shall be dated March 1st, 1921, and shall bear interest from date until paid at the rate of Six percent per annum, payable semi-annually on September 1st and March 1st of each year; said notes shall be signed and sealed as municipal bonds are signed and sealed. The several installments of interest shall be evidenced by coupons attached to said notes, and both principal and interest shall be made payable at the City Auditor's office in Xenia, Ohio. Said notes shall mature as follows:

Nos. 1 and 2 aggregating $1000.00 due March 1st, 1922;

Nos. 3 and 4, aggregating $1000.00 due March 1st, 1923;

Nos. 5 and 6, aggregating $1000.00, due March 1st, 1924;

Nos. 7 and 8, aggregating $1000.00, due March 1st, 1925;

Nos. 9 and 10 aggregating $1000.00 due March 1st, 1926;

No. 11 for the sum of $600, due March 1st, 1926.

Section 3. The Mayor and the Auditor of the City of Xenia, shall be and hereby are authorized and directed on behalf of the City of Xenia, to have prepared and shall execute and seal said notes with the corporate seal of said City of Xenia, Ohio and said interest coupons shall be signed by the Auditor, or his signature may be lithographed on said coupons, and said notes shall be sold in the manner provided by law.

Section 4. That the fund arising from the sale of said notes shall be placed to the credit of the respective improvement funds, and are hereby appropriated and authorized to be paid out on regular executed vouchers to apply on the above mentioned improvement, and for no other purpose whatsoever.

Section 5. That to redeem the notes herein proposed to be issued and pay the interest on the same, assessments anticipated to be collected from the abutting property owners along said improvement and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City of Xenia, Ohio, be and the same hereby are irrevocably pledged.

Section 6. There shall be and there is hereby levied and ordered collected on all the real and personal property of said City of Xenia, Ohio, a tax in addition to all other taxes sufficient to pay the interest on said notes as the same accrued, and also to create a sinking fund sufficient to discharge the principal as same matures in the event that the assessment against said abutting property so to be collected are for any reason insufficient to pay the interest and principal of said notes.

Section 7. This ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

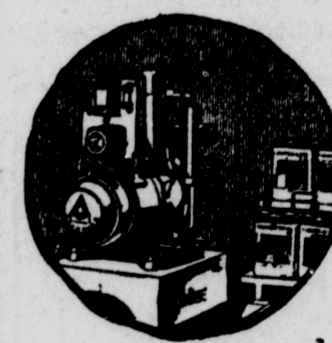

Passed this 10th day of February, 1921.

GAS BUGGIES

NEW GAS RATE GOES INTO EFFECT MARCH 15 IN XENIA

Xenia patrons of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company will begin paying five cents more on the thousand for their gas, starting March 15, when the new rate petitioned to the State Utilities Commission will go into effect.

The present gas rate is 43 cents a thousand with a three cent discount given if the bill is paid before the tenth of each month. The new rate, at 50 cents a thousand feet with a five cent discount, which makes the new rate net 45 cents a thousand and just five cents higher than the old rate.

At the same time the company is announcing a reduction of minimum charges. Under the present rate the minimum charge of 80 cents a month, the bill not being less than this amount even if no gas is used. Under the new rate, this minimum charge will be reduced to 50 cents a month, which will be considered the minimum meter charge after March 15.

With the new rates going into effect March 15, patrons will pay at the higher cost during the first ten days of May. The company has its meters read in the middle of the month and the first reading under the new rate will be April 15, the bills for April going out the first of May, and payable before the tenth in order to secure the five per cent discount.

Winter winds and the complexion

Lovers of the winter outdoors will find in Resinol Soap and Ointment most valuable aids for combating its bad effects on the complexion. The use of harsh, caustic soaps often promote chapping and redness, but the purity and soothing qualities of Resinol Soap tend to prevent such conditions. If, however, the skin has become chapped a little, Resinol Ointment stops the burning and stinging and keeps the skin soft and smooth. Be prepared to enjoy winter. Protect your skin by using Resinol. At all druggists.

Resinol

IT STOPS THOSE PAINS

A few drops in water warm the stomach and give immediate relief from stomach and intestinal cramps, etc. Used externally it quickly soothes pain of rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, stiff neck, toothache and earache. Listerine Hot Drops is an old, old remedy and one you will keep always on hand. Once you see how quickly it brings blessed relief, there's nothing like it for distressing pains that women endure. Try it. Druggists guarantee Listerine Hot Drops for internal and external use. Only 50c and 60c per bottle.

What is

MOTHERS FRIEND

Simply and tersely stated, MOTHER'S FRIEND is just exactly what the name implies—a friend and help to mothers. It has been made and sold for more than half a century. If it did not possess the value claimed for it, MOTHER'S FRIEND could not possibly have remained on the market. For only that which is really worth while and beneficial can survive.

The mothers who appreciate MOTHER'S FRIEND the most, and who are loudest in their praise of it, are those who unfortunately did not use it with their first baby, and who, through its use with the second one, were able to fully realize the relief it gave them.

DIDN'T EVEN NEED THE DOCTOR
"Dear Sirs: I am willing and anxious to tell any mother about MOTHER'S FRIEND. It did me so much good that I wouldn't be without it if it cost $5.00 a bottle. With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and with my last two children I only had a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick and only sick about ten or fifteen minutes." Any mother can write me and I will only be too glad to give her advice. Yours truly, MRS. C. J. HARTMAN, 615 Palm St., Scranton, Pa.

SICK ONLY THREE HOURS. "MOTHER'S FRIEND" USED, COMPARED WITH FOUR DAYS SUFFERING WITHOUT IT
"Before using MOTHER'S FRIEND I suffered from Wednesday till Sunday. With my next child I used MOTHER'S FRIEND and was sick only about three hours." MRS. OLIVE VANDEN, 10 Grape St., Gallipolis, O.

—Health and Happiness for Women—

Every woman seeks happiness as the thing to be most desired. Fortunately, the right to happiness is denied to no woman, regardless of her sphere in life. The first and foremost essential is good health. For, without good health, strive after happiness as she may, it is beyond her reach. If she will accept the advice of thousands of women, who have been benefited, she will take Dr. J. Bradford's Female Regulator—a tonic for women and for trouble peculiar to their sex, which has been sold by drug stores for more than 60 years. Dr. J. Bradford's Female Regulator is put up in $1.00 bottles.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—2 bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by tuning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

ODD RECIPES.
Veiled Heart—Scoop out part of a calf's heart. Refill with well-seasoned stuffing. Steam or boil until tender, then bake until evenly browned. Cover with boiled spaghetti and serve with gravy made from drippings.

Scotch Toast—Remove fat from two quarts mutton broth, add one-half pint oatmeal and two finely-minced onions, and salt, pepper and a sprig of parsley. Cover closely, cook gently about three or four hours, strain and serve with buttered toast fingers.

French Rice Loaf—Pick over and soak for twelve hours or more two cups of split peas. Drain them and add one pound unglazed rice, two teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon ginger and a dash of pepper. Stir and add one quart water. Cook gently until tender and dry. Pack into a mound and garnish with French fried onions and hard-cooked eggs.

Mounted Oysters—Pick over and rinse one dozen large oysters. Have ready one dozen thin slices bacon and one dozen pieces toast cut into rounds. Wrap each oyster in a piece of bacon and secure it in place with a wooden skewer or toothpick. Put oysters in a hot oven to cook bacon. Then place them on the rounds of toast. Sprinkle with salt and paprika and garnish with crisp sprigs of parsley.

Cream of Potato Soup—Three potatoes, one pint milk, one tablespoon flour, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon chopped onion, one teaspoon salt, speck of white pepper, one tablespoon finely chopped parsley. Cook potatoes until soft; heat milk in double boiler with onion; drain and mash potatoes; add boiling milk and seasoning to mashed potatoes; rub all through strainer, and return to double boiler. Bind with butter and flour cooked together. Let boil five minutes, add parsley and serve.

Bernaise Sauce—One and one-half tablespoons finely chopped onion, two tablespoons vinegar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, three egg yolks, one tablespoon chopped parsley. Cook the onions in the vinegar. Place in double boiler and add the egg yolks and seasoning. Cook until the mixture becomes creamy.

Caper Sauce—Two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon onion juice, one cup boiling water, four tablespoons capers, one tablespoon vinegar. Make a sauce of the first five ingredients. Just before removing from the fire add the capers and vinegar.

Hollandaise Sauce—Four tablespoons butter, two teaspoons cornstarch, two egg yolks, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half cup scalded milk, juice of one lemon, speck of cayenne. Cream the butter, add the cornstarch dissolved in one tablespoon cold water, then add the egg yolks one at a time, beating thoroughly; next put into the mixture the seasonings and milk and cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thick. Last add the lemon juice, beating it into the sauce thoroughly. Serve at once.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

A NEW HOME CHAPTER 92

The year was over—Dick, strong and well again—seemingly as healthy as ever, yet I had the haunting fear the doctor's attitude gave me when he said we must not attempt to live in a cold climate. Dick laughed at my fears, although he made no move toward going back east, but talked always of remaining in California.

Our money was almost gone. In the last two or three months for Dick had done a little writing for magazines and papers. He wrote a long article about Tungsten which brought him a good big check, and a request for more of his work.

"Why ever try to do office work again?" I asked. "You have shown that you can write acceptably. Why not keep on doing that?" Then we can live where we please regardless of conditions.

"It has been in my mind for some time," he responded. "But when the next two articles were returned with the printed slip so discouraging to the amateur writer, he said: 'I guess it would be a broken reed if we had to depend upon it.'"

But when the next trial was successful I broached my scheme which I believed would work nicely.

"Let us take a little place in Southern California, where we can raise some of the things we eat, and where you can work out of doors. If we can't get a house cheap, we'll rent some land and live in a tent. We have found it very comfortable. Then I will go to work quietly to start my drapery business in a small way. Don't object dear! I shall be much happier if you don't."

"All right. If it is necessary I won't say a single word. But if I prove I can earn enough to live, just simply, will you agree to be happy and let me do it—even if I can't give you as much as I would like to?"

"It isn't what you give me, Dear!" My thoughts flew to my old complaints that I could not have what other, richer women had. "It is what I want to do to help you, to make it easier for you. You mustn't get sick again, you know."

"I shan't. I'm as strong as an ox again."

We moved out to a little plot of ground near Riverside. We made a small payment on the ground with one of the checks Dick received for his story, then set up our tent. We had a better equipped kitchen than we had before, but we had no quarters. Naturally the neighbors wondered, although none lived very near, and we explained to those who asked that Dick had been ill and had been advised to live out of doors.

To our desert equipment we added a small tent for Dick's study and office—as he jokingly called it. There we put his books, his typewriter, and other supplies, and he worked several hours each day with varying success. I cooked, washed and cleaned while he was busy, then we would take long walks. Junior, who had become very strong and large for his age, often accompanied us.

"Isn't this better than being cooped up in a big city?" Dick would often ask, then take in long breaths of the clear air.

On Easter morning we climbed Mount Rubidoux at sunrise to hear the choir from Los Angeles sing their athens of praise—a feat that six months before would have been impossible for Dick.

He worked our vegetable garden in the cool of the morning, while I cared for the flowers I had planted and which grew so quickly and so luxuriantly in that country.

Junior was in school. Morning and night he trudged sturdily the distance of a mile or more, his lunch basket grasped in his hand, his books strapped upon his back. Dick helped him with his lessons, and we all three gave a short time each day to our French exercises. We had no idle time, and although frequently we were almost broke, as Dick called it, something invariably happened before we were quite out of money.

We had paid for our lot in less than a year. And now once again Dick talked of building a house, just as happily as he had talked of one in that long ago. But this time it was to be no small mansion with a garage, but just a wing in which we would move until we could afford to build on a front, as many people did.

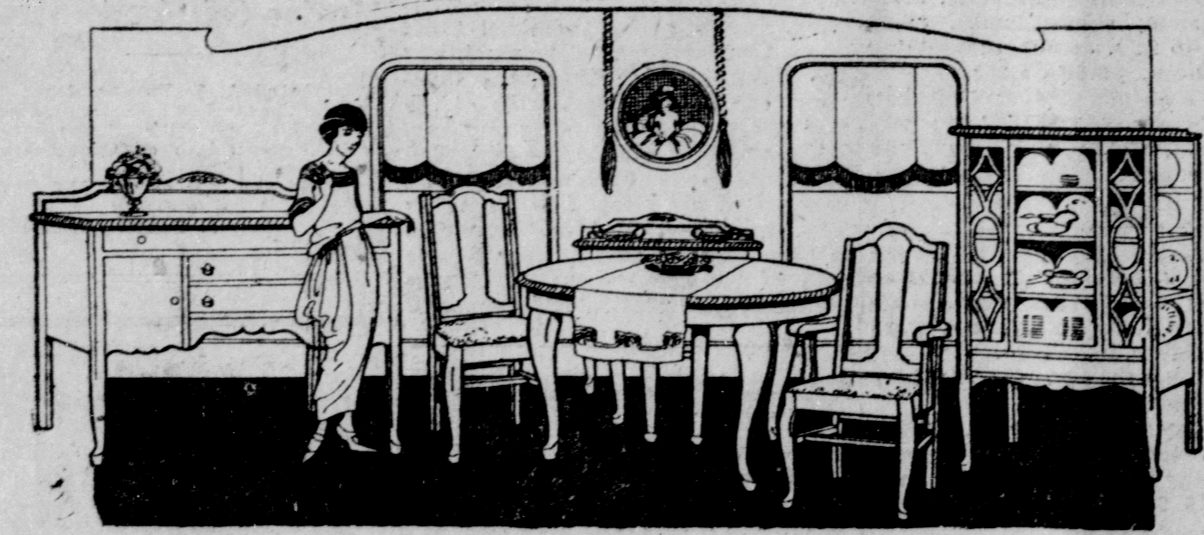

Dick's stories were becoming known. He received fewer rejections. Less often did the printed slip appear to discourage him. Often there came requests from editors to send them something. Then he was as pleased as a child and worked so enthusiastically that I feared he would overdo, and make himself ill again.

It was at times such as these, or when he was discouraged, that I realized his wisdom in asking me not to start the shop again. He needed me. And as long as he did I knew it was my duty to put everything else aside to meet his needs.

Tomorrow—A New Acquaintance.

FINAL WEEDING OUT IN CABINET LIST STARTED

Believe All But Three Posts Are Now Filled.

DAUGHERTY NAMED
Announcement Will Not Likely Be Made Until March 3.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 16.—The conferences in progress this week between president elect Harding and Republican party managers here, constitute the final weeding out process in the cabinet garden.

While it is not virtually certain that there will be no announcement of the new cabinet until March 3 and quite possible not until March 4, the president elect hopes within another week to have matters so adjusted that he could make public his selections if such a course were deemed expedient. There is no indication, however, that such a course will be considered advisable.

As matters stand today those about the president-elect believe that if he were confronted with the task of naming immediately the members of his official family he would name Charles Evans Hughes to be secretary of state; Harry M. Daugherty to be attorney general; Will H. Hays to be postmaster general; Andrew Mellon to be secretary of the treasury; John W. Weeks, to be secretary of war; Henry C. Wallace to be secretary of agriculture and Senator Albert B. Fall to be secretary of the interior and there they stop. The three remaining posts—navy, commerce and labor—are still very much in the air, according to those about the new president.

Lowden Named
Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, may be the new secretary of the navy, John Hays Hammond may be the secretary of commerce and James Duncan or James J. Davis may fill the labor portfolio but there is little to indicate that the president elect made any definite decisions regarding them.

So far as Mr. Harding himself is concerned he has indulged in practically no cabinet talk other than to say that this man or that man has been strongly recommended. He has conferred in the morning and golfed in the afternoon and meanwhile watched the reaction of the various names proposed.

Today Mr. Harding had appointments scheduled with Alfred H. Smith, president of the New York Central Railway, Col. Arthur W. Woods, former head of the New York Police department; T. V. O'Connor, president of the longshoremen's union and George Sylvester Viereck, former head of the German American alliance.

It is understood that Smith took up with President elect Harding the financial conditions of the railroads and stressed the need for congress immediately voting them the government guaranty funds. This bill making available these funds had struck a snag in congress and the railroads are insistently urging action.

Col. Woods came to St. Augustine at Mr. Harding's request, it is understood. He has been suggested as possible assistant secretary of war. He filled a similar position during the war and has been strongly recommended to reassume those duties in the new administration.

IDENTIFY BODY OF SLAIN MERCHANT

Dublin, Feb. 16.—The body of a man found in a field near Cork with the inscription "A spy" pinned to the breast, was identified today as that of J. C. Beale, manager of a firm of wine merchants in Cork. He had been shot to death.

An unoccupied farm house on Ballycotton Bay in county Cork, was blown up by crown forces. The military authorities at Cork said that Sinn Feiners had used it as a store house for arms and ammunition.

Dream of Boyhood Realized In His Plans For Antioch

Arthur E. Morgan Tells Chamber of Commerce Members His Views On Higher Education at Banquet Tuesday Evening.

As a barefoot boy, spending his mornings in the little country school and then trudging four miles into the country in the afternoon to work on a farm, Arthur E. Morgan, having time to think on his long walks, thought of a plan to let children get their education cheaply through working their way.

Later as a lad, loading granite in box cars, Morgan earned $2.25 a week and wore out $2.75 worth of gloves in the same period. He again building up a new education at the school. So he told an audience of almost 100 people at the February banquet at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

Mr. Morgan said in opening that Xenia and Antioch have always been so closely associated in the past and must be so closely associated in the future, that he felt he could not be well acquainted with Antioch without first getting acquainted with Xenia. In the space allotted to him he unfolded an interesting tale of the plans ahead for the "Harvard of the West," explaining the idea of the new board in combining practice and theory, and in attempting by the co-operative method, to provide suitable practical work to help students through the institution.

had opportunity to think, and it was during this hard-working boyhood that he resolved to sometime have something to do with an institution giving a practical education as well as a theoretical one.

That is why Mr. Morgan, who is chief engineer of the Miami Conservancy District at Dayton, accepted a position on the board of trustees of Antioch College at Yellow Springs, and later when elected the president of the school, threw his whole heart into the project of

LITTLE LIKELIHOOD OF REVOLUTION IN GERMANY, BELIEF

British Officials Are Optimistic Over Situation.

London, Feb. 16.—British officials have no fears that the allied indemnity decision will lead to a revolution in Germany, despite the pessimistic forecasts of German political leaders.

Even should German unrest be fomented to a dangerous degree and the monarchists and former adherents of the ex-kaiser attempt to take advantage of it, the allies will not seek to reopen the question of bringing William to trial before an international tribunal.

This information was secured by the International News Service from an official source—Evans Davies, parliamentary secretary to Premier Lloyd George.

"British officials do not fear a German revolution as a result of the size of the indemnity the allies decided to impose upon Germany," declared the official. "The German delegates are coming to the London conference on March 1, with full powers and we have every reason to believe that everything will be settled in a satisfactory manner."

POPE WILL LIKELY TAKE PART IN IRISH QUESTION, REPORT

Only One Consistory Will Be Held Next Month.

Rome, Feb. 16.—Pope Benedict XV may deal with the Irish question at a public consistory in March, it was reported in circles close to the Vatican today.

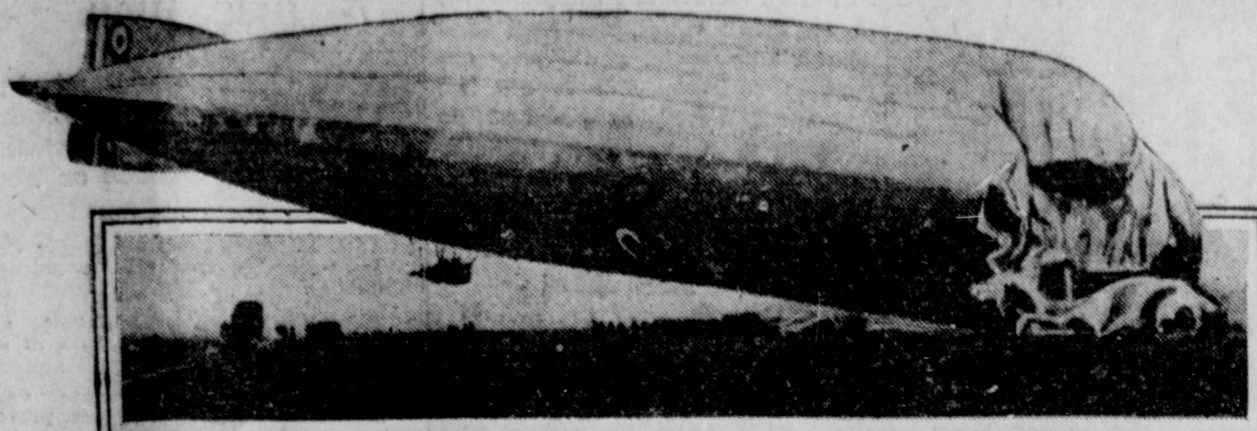

According to previous information only one consistory was to be held next month, but it is now understood that two consistories will meet at the Vatican, one private for the creation of new cardinals, the other public. The date of the secret consistory has been tentatively set for March 7; the public consistory, if held probably will take place about March 10.

The view is held that all the new cardinals created will be from outside of Italy and it is certain that one of them will be an American although his identity is not yet absolutely certain so close is the veil of secrecy thrown over such matters by papal court.

FOUR KILLED IN BLAST

Princeton, Ind., Feb. 16.—Four men were killed today in a gas explosion, which wrecked the New Liberty Coal Mine near Oakland City. Advice from Oakland City reported that Wesley Bildersback, Irman Davis, Ray Cochrum and Clyde Rinehart were in the mine, and it is believed that these were the four killed.

BRITISH AIRSHIP, R-34, WECKED BY STORM

The great British airship R-34 being rapidly battered to pieces by the gale at Howden, England. The big dirigible is now a total wreck as a result of the severe bumping in the high wind. Arriving at Howden after a service flight, it was found impossible to take the big ship into its shed, and she was moored in the open.

Had a mooring mast been provided it is probable the big ship would have ridden out the terrific gale.

WILL ATTEMPT TO SET NEW RECORD

Mineola, Feb. 16.—In an effort to break the world's endurance record for sustained flight, Lieut. Ross C. Kirkpatrick and Max Goodenough, a mechanic, ascended from Mitchell field here in an Eagle biplane at 7:34 a. m. today.

CONSTABULARY BILL IS KILLED BY THE HOUSE

Measure Is Sent To the Agricultural Committee.

TAFT BILL PASSES

Fishermen's License Act Tabled In House When It Is Up.

Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—By a vote of 101 to 16, the house is believed to have killed the Harding state constabulary bill by sending the measure to the agricultural committee.

The bill was called up for a vote on the question of passage. This action was taken on motion of Rep. Harding.

It is believed the bill would have been defeated if a vote had been recorded on the question of passage.

On motion of the author, the Harding bill seeking to regulate employment of strike breakers was recommended to the committee on agriculture.

The Taft emergency bill authorizing cities to issue deficiency bonds to meet current expenses, having passed both senate and house, now goes to the governor. Although passing the Bing bill authorizing transfer of $500,000 from the state highway fund to the common school fund in anticipation of school revenues to be paid in June and distributed in August, the house rendered the measure practically worthless by defeating the emergency clause by which the measure cannot become effective in time to serve its purpose.

The house defeated the Atwood fishermen's license bill by tabling it when it came up for passage.

Unanimously, the senate committee on benevolent institutions voted to indefinitely postpone further action on the Miller bill which seeks to repeal the law under which the Bucyrus site was purchased by the state board of administration for the proposed state institution for feeble minded.

This subject, however, is expected to reach the state supreme court. The board of administration has presented to State Auditor Tracy vouchers totalling $385,850, the purchase price for the land, made payable to J. J. Stafford, Marion real estate dealer.

Tracy said he won't pay unless advised by Attorney General Price to do so. In view of Gov. Davis' opposition to the purchase, it is expected the attorney general will advise the state auditor not to pay. Stafford is expected to file a mandamus suit in supreme court in an effort to get the money.

EXPECT COUNSEL WILL SUM UP

Cleveland, O., Feb. 16.—Omitting much of the useless testimony offered at the former trial, both prosecution and defense have so effectively speeded up the present hearing of Judge William H. McGannon, under indictment in connection with the death of Harold C. Kagy, that presentation of the evidence will end today and immediately thereafter counsel for the state will begin his summing up.

Harry Du Rocher, an alibi witness, and the defendant are the only witnesses yet to be heard for the defense. Prosecutor Stanton thus far has not indicated that he will offer any witnesses in rebuttal.

FARMER HELD UP.

Marion, O., Feb. 16.—Late last night, M. C. Mullen, farmer, residing west of Marion, was held up by two men when en route home and robbed of $1,200.

EVEN IN BURMA

Rangoon, British India, Feb. 16.—The Legislative Council of Burma passed a resolution demanding votes for women. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

EXPECT TAX COMMISSION WILL REVOKE ORDER FOR REAL ESTATE REAPPRAISAL

Citizens' Taxation Committee Of Which O. E. Bradfute Is a Member Confers With Governor Davis On Permanent Taxation System.

Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—Taxation matters are being considered today by state officials.

The Griswold debt limitation resolution and bill and the taft bill providing for temporary suspension of the limitations of the Smith one percent tax for the purpose of affording temporary financial relief to cities are scheduled to be called up for passage in the house this afternoon.

The state tax commission is expected to revoke its order for a reappraisal of real estate in sixty counties.

Gov. Davis has announced that he does not believe reappraisal should be made before a scientific and equitable taxing system has been worked out. The governor said that in counties where a reappraisal has been made, it is too big and sentiment is for a reduction of taxation values, the proper county officials should immediately make a downward revaluation.

Governor Davis and the members of the citizens' taxation committee appointed by him are conferring at the governor's office today in an effort to work out a plan which will form the basis for a permanent taxation system to be enacted into law by the state legislature.

L. J. Taber, Barnesville, master of the Ohio State Grange, is chairman of the committee. Other members are: O. E. Bradfute, Xenia; C. A. Dyer, Coaling; F. H. Goff, Cleveland; W. W. Knight, Toledo; C. J. Neal, Cleveland; O. E. Hawk, Youngstown; Dr. W. O. Thompson, Columbus, and William Cooper Procter, Cincinnati. All are here except Procter.

DEATH OF CARUSO EXPECTED; SINGER IS CRITICALLY ILL

New York, Feb. 16.—Enrico Caruso, who has cheered and entertained thousands with his golden voice which has been termed the most perfect tenor ever known, was hovering between life and death today.

With five doctors in attendance and all known remedies and scientific aids to combat death at their disposal, Caruso, who so often has taken the tragic and heroic parts in the mimic life of the opera stage, was fighting for his life this afternoon.

Caruso suffered a sharp relapse early today and two priests, the Rev. Father Joseph Congedo and the Rev. Father E. E. Molinelli—were called into the sick room to administer extreme unction. The last rites of the Roman Catholic church were performed when the great tenor seemed to be dying.

Although his vitality was fast ebbing Caruso was conscious and was not suffering acute pain, according to his secretary, Bruno Sirato. Mrs. Caruso was with her husband and the singer's son by a previous marriage, Enrico Caruso, Jr., has been hastily summoned from his school in Culver, Ind.

Caruso bore up bravely and feebly said farewell to friends who were admitted to the sick room.

Just before daybreak the patient seemed to rally and to brighten.

Three doctors were in active attendance at the bedside throughout the night and two others were in consultation. Oxygen was administered at regular intervals by Dr. Philip Horowitz, the regular physician of the Carusa family assisted by his colleagues.

Caruso was originally stricken on the night of Dec. 9, while singing in "Pagliacci." Two operations were later performed and the lungs were drained. Both there said to have been successful.

Announcement was made at 9:30 o'clock this morning that Caruso seemed to be rallying. A consultation of doctors will be held at 11 o'clock.

NATIONAL MEETING OF WOMEN VOTERS OPENS AT CAPITOL

Political Future Of Woman's Party To Be Decided.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The first national convention of women voters since the suffrage amendment was ratified opened here today. Called together by the officers of the National Woman's Party, the convention meets to wind up the long suffrage campaign and to decide upon the political future of the woman's party.

After the convention is called to order by Alice Paul, national chairman, Miss Mabel Boardman, only woman commissioner of the District of Columbia, will welcome the delegates. Most of today's session will be devoted to reports of national officers of the woman's party.

AMERICA MUST CONSERVE ITS CREDIT SYSTEM

Governor Harding Of Federal Reserve Board Sounds Warning

U. S. POSITION GOOD

Nation Should Take Steps To Guard Against Grave Trouble

Washington, Feb. 16.—Congress was today warned that the government's credit must be conserved and the basis of American prosperity protected, if European economic pitfalls are to be avoided. The danger signal was hoisted by Governor W. P. G. Harding of the federal reserve board.

Harding submitted to congress his annual report upon the operations of the federal reserve system. He traced the commercial reactions of the past and present, the upsets due to the war load now being borne by the government.

Governor Harding told congress that although the entire world has been shaken by commercial and financial upheaval, with disturbances still pronounced in many countries, the United States is much stronger in financial resources and "much more self contained" today than any other country on the globe.

Care Should Be Taken
"But however great the economic strength of the United States should be, it should be remembered that he country's expenditures during war and the very profound modifications which have occurred in its economic system have had such far-reaching results, as to make it imperative that the utmost care be taken to conserve our credit and protect the basis of our prosperity if we are to avoid the extreme conditions which prevail in other countries," said Harding.

Citing the financial chaos now existing in many countries, Governor Harding said the solvency and financial stability of some of them depend in a large measure upon the United States.

Governor Harding thereby pointed the way to a more vigorous handling by this government of some of its foreign debtors. His intimation was strong that the great need abroad at the moment is the adoption of national measures of "self help."

Tracing the steps through the acute stage of transition from "war time delirium to normal conditions of peace," Governor Harding observed that the United States has suffered least of all world powers. The effects of readjustments he said, have been more drastic in other countries, notably European nations, where inflation of bank credit and currency was more pronounced than in the United States.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Once again—the emergency tariff bill, staggering under the weight of 57 varieties of amendments engaged the attention of the senate today.

Senator Penrose, Republican of Pennsylvania, professed the utmost confidence in the fulfillment of his prediction that the bill would be passed by nightfall.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic minority leader, was not so sanguine. He said the measure would "probably" be passed by nightfall.

It was the intention of Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, to keep the senate in session until midnight, if necessary, in order to force a final vote, he announced.

Many amendments are yet to be acted upon before final vote can be taken, and some Republican leaders were exerting every possible pressure to get rid of the bill in the hope of breaking the existing legislative job, and thereby secure early action on some of the still pending appropriation bills.

who are depending on their own labors for board and tuition. "The accomplishment of college years is an accomplishment in the matter of theory. The civil engineer, for instance, when he graduates, is fairly well fitted in the theory of his job but doesn't know what it means when he comes up against a real job. The student in this case has to be nursed quite a time before being able to tackle a big job."

Mr. Morgan explained the plan of operation for Antioch will be the cooperative system, with students going to school half of time and working the other half. The object of this plan is two-fold, one to assist the student to make his way through school and the other to give him the practical education with the theoretical. "There is nothing more stupid than to imitate other people," said Mr. Morgan. "Little colleges also must have individuality and originality. If the little colleges are going to get anywhere they must be individualistic."

"We have undertaken to train students at Antioch to be administrators or managers," said the speaker, "rather than employees. They will have to be up on practice, as well as theory. In the machine shop course, students will be prepared to become proprietors and managers. There is a large field for well equipped and well operated machine shops. The students will probably start the first year as laborers in the shop, then they will take up organization the second year, costs and accounting, and later other branches of administration, until in six years he has acquainted himself with the principal elements that make up an industry. You can not teach responsibility out of a book, you have to get it in theory."

Mr. Morgan explained in this manner several of the practical courses to be taken up and said the board was hunting the country over for faculty of men of high standing character and outlook and explained that the new idea was departing from the conventional in the curriculum. "Education must lead one to the mastery of principles rather than the retention of facts," he said. "We must get possession of the faculties of trained thinking. It will be a long hard, pull for Antioch," said the new president. "I had no thought of Antioch until I saw in the paper I had been made a trustee. I know of no college in the United States that would suit me better than Antioch however," he added.

The Rev. Charles Proudfoot, was toastmaster at the February banquet and introduced Mr. Morgan, following the banquet served by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany.

FATHER BURKE TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF LATE BISHOP

Rev. Albert Burke left Wednesday for Cleveland where he will attend the funeral of Rt. Rev. John P. Farrelly, late Bishop of Cleveland Diocese. Bishop Farrelly was director of the American College in Rome where Father Burke completed his studies for the Priesthood, and during the years of study, the two men became personal friends. In paying tribute to Bishop Farrelly Father Burke states, "his high intellectual attainments, and kindly disposition endeared him to all the students under his care and his interest in them survived Seminary days. His passing is a source of deep regret to all the former students as well as a large circle of friends."

MODERN PUBLIC SCHOOLS DISCUSSED BY CLUB

The Modern Public Schools with the Xenia schools given as an example of the new method of instruction, was the topic chosen for the discussion at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Club, Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting Tuesday was held at the home of Mrs. Milton McKay on West Market street. The first paper of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Steele Poague upon "Bernard Shaw." Two delightful vocal solos, "A Necklace of Love," and "The Summer Wind" were given by Mrs. William H. McGervey.

The discussion of the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Robert Bryson, assisted by Mrs. Reed Madden and Miss Flora Nisbet. Mrs. Bryson took for her part of the topic the modern schools of Cary, Indiana, and spoke of how these methods are being introduced in this city. Mrs. Madden and Miss Nisbet presented Xenia's plan of education, and especially emphasized the progress of the new Opportunity School. Instruction in the local high schools, and the development of new ideas were discussed. Future plans in the Xenia City Schools were presented during the discussion.

SIGNS OF SPRING APPARENT DURING PAST TWO DAYS

Spring is nigh! Soon the signs that tell the city dweller that it is spring, will be appearing in the newspapers.

There will be the first robin in Kankakee, the spring mushroom in Kokomo, the barefoot boy in Keokuk, the summer cars in Kalamazoo, the breaking of the ice in Canada, the baseball training camps in Kansas, daylight saving in Connecticut, spring floods in the Carolinas, the cry of the huckster in Columbus.

The tired business man will carry home a garden rake, the chorus girl will bring out her summer furs, the kids will be appearing at the table with soiled knuckles, back yard fence conversation will pick up steam like a revolution in Jaurez.

These are signs that the city dweller reads in his steam-heated flat, with the snow falling outside, that tell him that spring is nigh. Even here the girls are going without hats and merchants are leaving their front doors open.

Two days of spring dropped in the middle of a month habitually and uncommonly disagreeable, has tended to make the whole world kin. The indications of a warm April rain, Wednesday afternoon however aroused suspicions of the length of the warm spell.

CONTINUE CASES ENJOINING TAXES

Hearing of the suits enjoining the collection of special assessments for street improvements continued before Judge Clevenger of Wilmington Wednesday.

The five cases which were begun Tuesday morning hung over until Wednesday, when hearing on them was resumed. Although more time is being given them than the calendar first allowed, it is thought they will be a big deciding factor in deciding the balance of the cases.

Attorneys for both sides continued their arguments on these five cases, until 10:30, when Judge Clevenger adjourned court to a recess until one o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the hearing was resumed.

CALL ON WILSON FOR STATEMENT OF U. S. WAR FUNDS

Washington, Feb. 16.—After heated debate the house late yesterday adopted a resolution calling upon President Wilson for an itemized statement showing disbursements and allotments of the $150,000,000 war funds voted by Congress.

The resolution, which was adopted 211 to 79, was attacked by Democrats, who charged it was put forward at this time to defame and malign President Wilson in the closing days of his administration. Reference to expenditures by the American peace commission at Paris fanned the flames on the Democratic side and turned the debate into strictly partisan channels.

Chairman Good of the appropriations committee, who reported the resolution introduced by Representative Gould, Republican, New York, declared if any injustice had been done the president, the Democrats were responsible, by attempting to create the impression that "There was something crooked in the money spending" when the resolution itself implied nothing of the kind. Good declined to offer an amendment calling upon various government departments for an accounting which was the method adopted, Democrats stated, in asking for an accounting of Spanish war funds in President McKinley's day.

Hotel Expenses Attacked. Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, attacked reported expenditures of the peace commission at the Hotel Crillon in Paris, calling attention specifically to an item of $125,000 for damage to the hotel property. He said he did not know if chandeliers were in the damaged list or what hour in the morning they might have been broken.

"The acting secretary of state was unable to give details of the Paris expenditure," Rogers said. "Wages of hotel employees amounted to $131,000 and we had to pay for their food. There was another item of $14,000 for automobiles, when the streets of Paris were overrun with American cars. Confidential expenses of the presidential party were put down at $17,534. Why should there be confidential expenses of a president, the president to negotiate on the part of the people a treaty of peace?"

Representative Byrnes, South Carolina, and Dewalt, Pennsylvania, Democrats, bitterly assailed the resolution, Byrnes insisting that Congress after the Spanish war "did not attempt to insult McKinley."

COLORED LOCAL TALENT SHOW IS RATED HIGH CLASS

"A Count of No Account" a musical comedy in two acts presented by a large cast at the Opera House Tuesday night for the benefit of St. John's A. M. E. church, won expressions from the audience that claimed for it the title of the best colored local talent show given here for some time.

The cast was directed by Carl Scott and James E. Watts, the latter a clever colored comedian, who had a principal part in the show. In the cast were William O. Rickman, Esther Ward, Lloyd Clark, Ruby Martin, Robert Braxton, Goldie Douglas, Jas. E. Watts, Edwin Howard, William Johnson, Nathaniel Scurry, Cecilia Ward, Harley Ward and Clifford Marsh, besides a large chorus, and a number who took part in singing, dancing and acrobatic novelties.

New song hits were introduced in the show and were cleverly sung by the performers. Raymond Goodin singing "Sometime" and his twin brother Ralph, with the snappy melody LaVeada, and supported by the chorus, were both big hits, and won much applause, as did others of the musical numbers. The presentation of the piece showed careful direction and long practice.

A packed house greeted the local talent performance, a neat sum being realized for the church.

"IS GRANDEST ON EARTH" SHE SAYS

"Tanlac Proved Wonderful in My Case" Says Cincinnati Woman.

"Tanlac has proved so wonderful in my case that two of my family are now taking it with splendid results, and we all just think it's the grandest medicine ever made," declared Mrs. Mary Shannon, highly respected resident of 3112 Walworth Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio. "My condition certainly looked hopeless until last April when I got Tanlac, but it didn't take this medicine long to put an end to my troubles. I suffered for over two years with an awful case of stomach trouble, and the indigestion and bloating were almost unbearable. After eating I had dreadful pains and a terrible depressed feeling in my stomach, and at night was so restless I couldn't sleep well. I also had complications that required an operation last July, and it left me in such a weak, rundown condition that I could hardly get about and was very much worried about myself.

"However, since taking Tanlac, I feel like an entirely different person, for I can eat anything I want without a sign of indigestion or stomach trouble and have already gained nine pounds in weight. I sleep good and sound every night, am feeling just fine and owe my good health entirely to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. Finley, Bowersville, N. K. Bow-ermeister, Fairfield, Paul P. Young, Osborn, C. J. Lagodon, New Bur-lington, W. C. Smith.

LAST OF "JERSEY MUSKETEERS" NOW IN SCHOOLROOM

John Wisniewski, thirteen years old, a veteran of two wars, possessor of a decoration for valor and boasting four wounds received in action, must return to school. And, worst of all, John must return to the class second grade, in a Newark, N. J. school, which he left four years ago to go to war. He made his way to the waterfront and there made the acquaintance of two other youngsters, John Urazinski, eight and Roman Szedloksi, eleven. They watched the embarkation of Polish-American troops for the war zone. They decided to join the troops and boarded the transport. Then began the thrilling adventures of the three tiny "Jersey Musketeers," which cost Urazinski and Szedloksi their lives. The youngsters received their baptism of fire on the Champagne. Urazinski was killed there and Szedloksi died in the Soviet drive at Warsaw.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS MME. WIESIKE IN LOCAL CONCERT

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Mme. Lillian Wiesike of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, who gave a delightful and varied song recital at the First United Presby-terian Church Tuesday evening.

Charming in appearance, gracious in manner, and the possessor of a beautiful soprano voice Mme Wiesike won her hearers with her first group of songs. These included: "Il Mio Bel Fuoco," by Marcello; "Quel Rus-cellette," by Paradies; Haendels, "O, Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me," and Chantons Les Amours," an old French folk song of the 18th century.

The second group comprised: "Souvenir," by Bernberg; "Pastoral," by Bizet; Rimsky Korsikow's well known "Chanson Indone" and "Mandoline," by Debussy. The lyric qualities of Mme Wiesike's voice were displayed to especial advantage in the two numbers by Brahms, "May Night" and "Serenade" with which she opened her third group. These were followed by "Mozart's Magic Verse" by Wolf, a charmingly light and playful selection which met with so much applause that the singer repeated it, and "Serenade" by Strauss. The fourth and last group gave Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

the artist an opportunity to show her dramatic ability in the numbers, "Crying of the Waters," by Camp-bell-Lipton; "The Last Hour," by Walter Kramer and "Bird of the Wil-derness," by Housman. In a lighter vein, "Lady Picking Mulberries," by Edgar Stelman-Kelley introduced a theme which the composer brought from San Francisco's Chinatown and which was emphasized in a distinctive manner in the accompaniment. The audience expressed its appreciation so cordially that Mme. Wiesike responded to two encores. "Thence Exquisite," by Reynolds Hahn and "Life" by Pearl Curran.

Mme. Wiesike's voice is clear and bell like in quality and shows the effect of the excellent training she has received. Her high notes are especially pure and delicate though her voice is pleasing in all registers. The audience particularly appreciated her distinct enunciation which enabled them to follow her songs with ease. The singer was suffering from a severe cold but overcame the resulting difficulties admirably.

Mrs. Fern Sherman, as accompan-ist supported the singer in a thor-oughly sympathetic manner after the concert, she favored the members of the Music Club with a brilliant rendition of one of Lodiard's Concert Etudes.

The hearty appreciation which the audience gave the performers and the loyal support afforded the Woman's Music Club in its efforts to bring good music to Xenia will encourage the club to undertake further professional concerts in the future, it is believed.

Bladder Normal, Says This Dayton Man, Was Relieved by Simple Treatment

Mr. Julius Mayer, 1430 East Fifth St., Dayton, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Daily News "For two years my bladder caused me to get up many times at night and too frequently in the day. After taking a few doses of lithiated buchu my bladder works perfectly normal and can sleep all night.

Lithiated buchu acts on the kid-neys and bladder as Epsom Salts do on the bowels. You will be sur-prised at the impurities which come from the bladder, after taking a few doses of lithiated buchu. It is not a patent medicine as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are neces-sary to give prompt relief. It is not likely that you have ever taken a remedy similar to this. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine frequent desire gravel or other deposits of the bal-d-

You can see the formula and learn more about lithiated buchu at Sayre and Hemphill's drug store and drug stores everywhere.

WOMEN CONTINUALLY OVERDO This applies to all women, regard-less of caste or color. The ambitious girl striving for school honors, the overworked housewife, the shop girl, girls in offices and stores, and the society woman, all climb too high, overtax their strength, and what fol-lows. Nervous prostration, sleepless-ness, headache, and the inevitable weakness and ailments peculiar to their sex soon develop, with unless checked bring on more serious conditions, and which often lead to operations. An efficient re-storative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is now recognized from coast to coast as a standard remedy for woman's ills.

Keep Your Blood in Good Condi-tion and You Throw Off Disease

PAY ATTENTION TO YOUR HEALTH

No Need to Take Chances with It. Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich, Red Blood.

When you first feel a tired, all-gone feeling, and look pale, your blood is losing in quality. Weak, impoverished blood has no power to fight disease. It takes red blood to keep you well.

If you keep your blood in good condition it will fight off disease. You will not be such an easy prey to long and expensive sicknesses. With thin blood you take chances every day.

There is no need doing that. You can take Pepto-Mangan and build up rich, red blood. With red blood you are able to win in the fight against prevailing diseases. Try Pepto-Mangan. It comes in tablet or liquid form. Take either kind. The tablet has the same medicinal value as the liquid. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the name "Gude's Pepto Mangan" is on the package.

THE SOUTH AFRICA ELECTION SPEAKS WELL FOR ENGLAND'S MANAGEMENT.

The result of the election in South Africa will confound those who have been loud in proclaiming that the British empire is a string of trading posts held in unwilling bondage, and that a free expression of the will of the people would dissolve the whole system.

Not only have the people of the Union of South Africa voted to remain a part of the empire, but this expression comes in great part from a people who twenty years ago were enemies of Britain with arms in their hands. The leading imperialist whose devotion to the interests of the people of South Africa is beyond question, is General Smuts, who fought Britain when he had no means of knowing what British administration would mean for the Boers, but who has been uncompromisingly for the empire since he found out its rule was mild just and beneficial to his countrymen.

The decision thus expressed must go far to subdue the clamor that has been raised, from a variety of motives, about self-determination, a mischievous phrase of war origin. The Union of South Africa has had a high degree of local self government, as has every part of the British empire that has shown itself capable of self government. Separation from the empire, even if that could have been brought about without war between the states of the union, or with Britain, could bring nothing in the way of independent political action which the people of the union do not now enjoy. Yet there was a nationalist party, formed of many elements, that the self determination agitation had lent encouragement to, and this party, which drew some strength from Boer irreconcilables, made a strong appeal to the independence sentiment. That is an appeal sure of a hearing wherever people happen to live at a great distance from the seat of political power, especially if that power resides in another race. Why should they be governed from across seas, they ask. In a mixed population like that of South Africa, British, Boers and natives, the agitation of this question might easily have become disturbing.

That it has met settlement in the sweeping victory of the imperialists speaks a decisive word for British rule. If that rule had been oppressive, if it had been exercised less in the interests of the people of South Africa than of those of Britain, or of any class of Britons, the result must have been different. The election must have gone strongly the other way.

In a word, South Africa is loyal to the empire because the empire has been loyal to South Africa, and nobody who really understands the British imperial system and its workings, and who speaks without prejudice, can deny that what the system does for South Africa it does for every other part of the empire. If it didn't the empire couldn't exist.

PADEREWSKI SAYS HIS PIANO-PLAYING CAREER IS AT AN END.

The professional piano-playing career of the world-famous Paderewski is at an end.

The distinguished Polish musician, whose artistry at the piano has delighted the music lovers of two continents for more than a generation, announced his retirement from the concert stage upon his arrival in New York on Sunday, on the steamship France.

"Piano-playing is a closed chapter in my life, although I may do some composing later," Ignace Jan Paderewski declared, when asked if he would resume his musical career.

Five years of hard mental labor in the field of international politics in behalf of his native Poland have left their imprint on his physical appearance. Old age and worry have whitened the long and bushy hair of his head, which countless thousands of persons have seen waving back and forth as he kept time with the music produced by his magic hands, while the lines in his face have deepened and the sparkle in his eyes has dimmed.

The artist-statesman, who is accompanied by his wife, will pass a few days at rest and then visit Pittsburgh, where he will address a Polish gathering on Washington's Birthday, after which he will go to his ranch in California for a long rest.

Since the war he has traveled from coast to coast in this country and from capital to capital in Europe in the interest of Poland's liberation and economic rehabilitation.

After the signing of the armistice he returned to Europe and landed at Danzig in January, 1919, on a British destroyer. He received a tumultuous welcome. His popularity with the masses led to his selection as Poland's first premier and its principal spokesman at the peace conference in Versailles. His ministry lasted less than a year.

One of America's leading statesmen, Col. E. M. House, in speaking of Paderewski's coming to America, gives to him the following flattering notice:

Of all the soldiers and statesmen who had to do with the world war, none stirred the imagination more than Paderewski or deserved better of his native land. When Europe was tearing herself to pieces this artist-statesman was formulating plans which later were to mold again his beloved country into a harmonious whole. Sensing in advance of others of his kind that America would play the leading part before the world tragedy closed, it was here that he put forth his greatest endeavors; and it was here that he gathered his compatriots and planned a campaign which gave to the Poles freedom. Along with those of us who had faith in him and the justice of his cause, he drew the boundaries which later the Versailles conference adopted and through which the cherished aspirations of his people were realized. It was a great dream of a great man come true, and we of America count it a privilege to join Poland in homage to her noblest son, Ignace Jan Paderewski.

MAYBE IT'S JUST AS WELL TO GO ON AND FINISH UP THOSE BATTLESHIPS AFTER ALL FOR PURELY DOMESTIC PURPOSES

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

The Citizens Telephone Company has begun work on fitting up its offices and exchange in the room above the Bee Hive Store and a force of men is today at work on Main street in the center of the city replacing the electric light poles with others much higher and which will be used by the telephone and electric light people.

Mr. William McCallister, who for several years was a member of the Xenia police force and who resigned last fall to take a position in the Dayton stockyards, will again return to Xenia, and will again take his place on the force.

Mr. Jacob Baldwin appeared on the street this morning with his automobile bright and shining as a new dollar, it having just been painted up and put in good shape for spring.

A new crossing of brick is being constructed on South Detroit Street, today from the Steinmetz cigar store to the Commercial hotel. Another crossing is to be put in on Main street leading from the Davidson Drug Store.

Mr. Will Grottenick, who recently purchased the George Townsley property, corner W. Second and the C. H. & D. railroad, has had the residence remodeled and is today moving into the same, vacating the property he has been occupying just across the street.

OUR EVENING GOWN

If the evening frocks this winter have been very light and filmy, those promised for next spring are even more diaphanous. And the summer frocks are as filmy as could be imagined. They are mostly made of organdy, chiffon or voile; they are short-sleeved or sleeveless and are generally cut rather low. All the afternoon and evening gowns shown for southern wear—which will, of course, set the fashion for next summer—either leave the arms and shoulders bare, or cover them very slightly.

So it is imperative that every woman look to her arms and shoulders and make sure that they are as pretty as she can make them. I do not mean that the woman who is hopelessly thin need be out of fashion, for styles are always adaptable for every type. But some of these transparent frocks are so pretty that I know every young woman will want to be able to wear them.

If you are too thin, you cannot have pretty arms and shoulders unless you increase your weight. If you are too stout, you must, of course, reduce to possess lines of beauty. If you are round-shouldered, you must straighten up. The best way to acquire beautiful arms and shoulders is to exercise and to stand straight.

One splendid exercise for overcoming round shoulders is as follows: Lie flat on the floor, with the arms along the sides of your body. Slowly open them out, keeping them always so they touch the floor, and bring them over the head. Return to your original position. This exercise is practically every muscle down the back and it raises the chest. It should be done about 25 times, twice a day, that is about 50 times altogether.

GIOVANNI MORELLI

February 16, 1916.

Giovanni Morelli, Italian patriot and art critic, was born at Verona. He returned to Italy upon completion and educated all over Europe. When of his studies, he became associated with a band of patriots who were trying to free Italy from the oppressive Austrian rule. He took part in the war of 1848, and though he never became a great leader or a great politician, his influence was always felt and he caused one law to be passed, that has had an enormous effect. This was a law forbidding the sale of works of art from public and religious institutions.

But it is not particularly as a leader of men that he is known; his fame rests upon his work as an art critic. He originated a new method of studying the old masters. This was not to go by what had been written on works of art, but to study them and find out about them from themselves.

For instance, he noticed that one artist had a certain way of drawing hands or ears or of using lights and shadows, which other artists did not possess. In this way he could definitely attribute pictures to various old masters. He knew also the characteristics peculiar to each master, which pupils or imitators could not quite reproduce. Knowing all this he could tell genuine paintings from false ones or copies.

Because of this knowledge his influence on art has been enormous since he began studying it from an entirely different angle. He lived until 1891 and wrote a great many books on the study and criticism of Italian paintings.

Buy Coffee of Your Grocer Only

THE SOREHEAD.

For years I went to Grocer Gregg's to buy my prunes and cheese and eggs; I went ten thousand times, or more, and wore a path around his store, till every board I could recall, and every nailhead in the wall. And when each month of trade was done, I always paid him hand made mon, and never said "Please chalk it down until my goat comes back to town." Then, for a change, I bought my goods, my prunes and cheese, at Grocer Wood's. I thought I'd trade there for a while, since change of base is all the style, and then return to Gregg's once more as in the festive days of yore. But, meeting Gregg upon the street, and giving him a greeting sweet, he handed me a frozen stare, as grouchy as a grizzly bear. Oh, he was sore and full of bile because I left him for a while; he seemed to think he owned my soul and had a mortgage on my roll. The good old years will roll away, and whiskers red will change to gray, and dynasties will rise and burst and bow-wows turn to wienersurst before I go to Gregg's again to blow my hard-earned iron men. The merchants in this world of ours should always speak their thoughts with flowers; if they express their thoughts with bricks they drive off patrons by such tricks.

SHAMROCKS WIN OVER SPRINGFIELD

The Xenia Shamrocks came out on the long end of the count in the game with the Springfield K. of C. at the Rink Tuesday night defeating the visitors 39-27 in a well played contest.

It was the first defeat the Springfield quintet has suffered this season, the five man defense of the locals proving too powerful a defensive combination for their opponents. The first half was particularly close, the locals leading by a 15-14 score at the end of the initial period. Their basket shooting proclivities were more in evidence in the last chapter, when they slipped away from the dangerously close score.

"Yank" Stephens. Horen and Muterspaw shone brightly in the lineup of the locals. Lineup and summary:

The spinal nerves leave the spine at a point between joints, and when any of the 24 movable joints of the backbone are out of alignment, it narrows the nerve exit, and causes pressure on spinal nerves which interferes with impulse transmission and causes disease. Chiropractic spinal adjustments in the hands of a skilled practitioner restore nerve freedom, and health follows as a matter of course. The finest preventive to disease old age or premature death, is periodical spinal adjustments.

Just now chiropractic adjustments are restoring health to sufferers from such seasonal diseases as coughs, colds, bilious headaches, lung ailments, kidney derangements and sore throat.

Prices have lost their balance. Wide discrepancies exist between the purchasing power of different groups and the prices paid for different re-establishment equilibrium, not only as within the nation, but as between nations.

The farmer may congratulate himself that his products have hit bottom or are near it in most instances that he has experienced the worst, although temporarily he suffers most unjustly. Deflation will extend to wages and more thoroughly to retail prices. Otherwise, farm prices will recover ground. For, as one eastern authority remarks, "If the workers in other industries might continue full time at the rates they have been receiving, they would enjoy great benefits from the decline in farm products but that is impossible because their products cannot be sold upon such terms."

The action of Congress looking toward a sharp reduction in the army coincides with the farmer's well-known views on economy in government expenditures and on the whole question of armament. The United States does not need a large standing army. It can call in times of need upon its millions of patriotic citizens a fair proportion of whom should receive training in the use of arms and be capable of training others. A large military establishment, and likewise a colossal navy is an extravagance in which the present condition of the treasury and the tax burden do not permit the nation to indulge.

Pressure from agricultural communities has increased the probability of passage of the emergency tariff bill. Wages have declined but slightly, retail prices are still high, and the farm markets have plumbed new depths. Congressmen feel more inclined to afford the farmer emergency protection than a month ago. The Senate raised the duty on wheat as prescribed by the House from 30 to 40 cents. Other committee amendments have stood. The raising tide in favor of the emergency tariff bill attests the power and usefulness of organization, for were it not for the activities of the farm organizations, the bill would probably have died a natural death in the committee room.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the American Institute of Meat Packers have started a campaign against the Federal livestock bill, presumably because they believe it would substitute government for private control of the meat industry. The Chamber stands ready to combat at any time the principle of government control as applied to industry, and sees in the livestock bill the beginnings of a policy that might extend to all industry. Business men are apt to hold that government control is necessarily inefficient and corrupt. Were its control of the livestock industry to constitute a striking refutation of this claim, government control might easily extend to the coal industry, had it not already done so, and to other industries engaged in handling basic raw materials or in giving indispensable public service.

The wisest course for business is to "cleanhouse" and thereby make government control unnecessary, or if it be judged preferable to private control in some instances, lend it their wholehearted support and make it efficient. The conservatives need not fear that the sober, democratic citizens of the United States will soon commit themselves to a Socialistic state.

Stocks
If the stock market can maintain its present level with minor variations, even if it does not begin an upward swing for some time, it will nevertheless convey reasonable assurance as to the future of business for its resistance to bearish pressure will discount great activity in industry three to six months hence. Never was the market scrutinized more closely as a barometer of business. No signs of cheap money are in evidence, although the recent stringency in call money should prove but a cross-current at variance with the trend toward relaxation, judging from reliable financial indexes. The time manifestly has not come for a rapid increase of speculative loans and holdings. Liquidation of stocks held as investments through force of necessity has greatly diminished. Dullness and the presence of reactionary tendencies quite probably will characterize the market for some weeks to come.

Grain

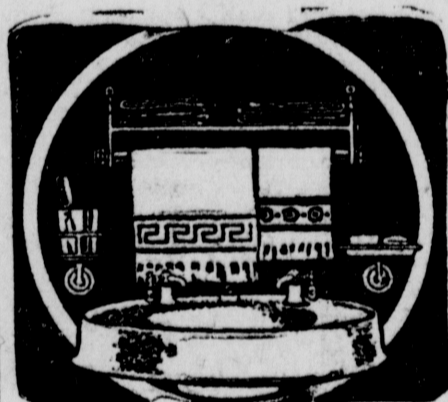

Farmers are anxiously waiting for a definite turn in the grain markets. Argentine and Australian competition, credit limitations, and general business depression preclude any material advance in the near future, it would seem. On the other hand, grains have so depreciated that the farmer cannot buy the products of manufacturing industry. Either he must sell for more or buy for less. Corn, Oats, and rye look cheap, at 67c and oats at 43c. Reports of the new winter wheat crop are sheering, though not unimpaired. Talk of damage will begin earlier than usual, owing to the mild winter, it is expected. Flour is feeling the competition of foodstuffs such as potatoes that are relatively cheaper than wheat. Doubtless the farmers will continue holding all the grain they can, as they have much to gain and little to lose.

Livestock

Cheap pork, unseasonable weather and industrial depression have greatly depressed the beef and mutton trade, producing a congestion in the live animal markets. Demand for stocker cattle and feeder lambs suffered correspondingly. During the three and one-half months since October prime fat steers at Chicago declined from $18.50 to $10, the most remarkable decline in the memory of traders. Liquidation of cattle will probably continue during February, as growers are anxious to obtain cash for stuff ready to butcher. The calf market is inherently weak. Hogs have met good demand at steady to advancing prices. The January movement was heavy although less than a year or two years ago. Stocks of meat and lard at Chicago are less than a month ago. While below normal they are less than the trade requires. The prospect in live mutton is anything but bullish.

Cotton

The cotton market is full of gloom. Underlying conditions have not enthusiasm is entirely lacking. Stocks are large and trade is sluggish. Various minor factors support or depress changed appreciably and bullish in the market, but do not succeed in giving it marked character. The movement to reduce acreage has gained fresh adherents in some quarters.

while financial stringency sometimes restricts intended planting operations. The slump in stocks and grain, high call rates, and unsatisfactory export totals all tend to bear the market and increase liquidation. Mill activity is apparently increasing.

Wool

Fair buying of wool is reported and prices show a noticeably firmer tendency here and abroad. The mill situation has not altered appreciably. Thirteen million pounds of foreign wool arrived at Boston recently, suggesting that importers are apprehensive of the emergency tariff bill. Current buying makes scant impression upon the world's enormous stocks of wool, which some critics think constitutes a two years' supply. Some domestic growers show themselves rather more disposed to sell than heretofore. The farmers' wool pools are holding tight, for the most part.

Metals

The pig iron market is lifeless with prices holding fairly well at recent low levels. Fortunately no large stocks have accumulated. Buying is hand-to-mouth. The steel industry shows a somewhat better tone, but the turn has not yet come and production is much restricted. The independents show some inclination to elation to undercut the corporation. Copper is quiet.

WINGLESS AIRPLANE WHICH RISES VIRTICALLY IS TESTED

The novel plane, showing the screw propellers.

Final tests have been completed successfully, according to experts present, on a flying machine which is a radical departure from present types and ideas. The plane has two pairs of horizontal blades which revolve in opposite directions. The machine can be made to rise vertically and then, by tilting the propellers, can be directed horizontally through the air. The plane has no wings. Herman Lohmeyer, now dead, conceived the idea. His three sons, Victor, Curtis and William, perfected the plane. In the picture the propellers are set for a vertical rise.

ANNOUNCE CHANGES IN RULES GOVERNING THE COUNTY FAIR

All cattle entered at the County Fair this year must be tuberculin tested and hogs must be immune.

This ruling was made by the Greene County Agricultural Society at its meeting last Saturday in the court house when the rules and regulations governing the Fair were discussed.

The Fair this year which will be held August 2, 3, 4 and 5, will see some major changes in policy. Among the other decisions arrived at by the board are the following:

County exhibits, with the exception of livestock, will be admitted for display, free of charge. Outside exhibitors must pay a nominal fee, thus protecting Greene county people.

Competition in all sweepstakes classes, has been stricken out of the Rules and Regulations. All pedigrees when required will be left with the member in charge of the department instead of with the secretary.

Rates and wages, which were charged from a fixed amount per day, will be optional with the man in charge.

All soldiers and all children under 15 years of age will be admitted free to the Fair on Wednesday.

A spotted Poland China class has been placed in the premium list the same as the Poland China Class.

The Shorthorn Breeders' Association has been making an additional prize of $25.00, and the board has agreed to devote a like amount in this special class.

All county poultry will be admitted free. Others must pay a small fee.

To Superintendent Aultman, of the county schools, the board awarded $340.00 to be made up in prizes for the boys' and girls' club work.

The Grange was allotted $240.00 to be made up in premiums. Six Granges have already consented to enter in competition.

All boys' and girls' club members, competing at the Fair for prizes, will be admitted free.

Officers of the Greene County Agricultural Society are looking forward to a successful fair this year, and say that the changes in the rules will work a decided benefit.

The official personnel of the board consists of Milo Anderson, president; C. M. Austin, Bellbrook, vice president; B. U. Bell, Xenia, treasurer; J. Robert Bryson, Xenia, secretary; W. C. Smith New Burlington, assistant secretary.

The board announced that Wayne Oglesbee, of Bowersville, has been added to the cattle committee with H. B. Harner.

METEORS TO PLAY TEAM FROM DAYTON

Since the St. Brigid's Meteors broke their losing jinx by defeating the Piqua Triangles last week, they have regained considerable of their lost pep and confidence and are out to annex their ninth victory in the game with the Kiowa club of Dayton at the Rink Wednesday night.

This fact, coupled with the announcement that the Collins Brothers and the Brill Brothers will hook in a family basketball feud as the second ring of a double header at the Rink is an announcement that should be attractive. The Brill brothers who go under the name of the Beaver Cadets have been defeating the best in this section recently, but with the stars numbered among the Collins tossers, there are bound to have their hands full in this battle. Referee Rachford will have charge of both contests, the first game starting at 7:45 o'clock.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

Mrs. Hermine Z. Hansen, Akron, vice president of the Northwest district, has issued the first call of the eight district conferences of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs. The Northwest district conferences will be held at Kent, Friday and Saturday, March 11 and 12. The Kent Federation has extended the invitation not only to the 148 affiliation clubs in the district, but to those not affiliated. The conference will open the afternoon of Mar. 11 at the First Methodist church. That evening at 8 o'clock there will be a musical program, a noted speaker and a reception. The reception will be in honor of Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, president of the Ohio Federation, other state officers and guests.

The morning session of March 12 will be open at 9:15. Delegates will be allowed from three to five minutes for their reports. A written report should be filed with the secretary. Meals will be served Friday at 6 p. m. and Saturday at noon. Delegates and visitors will be entertained in private homes at reasonable rates. Delegates should notify Mrs. Evadne Kneifel, No. 413 East Summit street, if they desire reservations in private homes for Friday night and breakfast and also if they wish the two meals to be served by the committee in charge. Mrs. Kneifel is head of the committee on rooms and all reservations should be made by March 4.

Kent is in Portage county, twelve miles from Akron, and is reached by the Erie, Wheeling & Lake Erie, Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania, via Ravenna and N. O. T. line.

Conservation Subjects
Mrs. Lyle S. Evans, Chillicothe, chairman of conservation for the state federation, would have all club programs next year carrying these subjects: "The Economic Value of Conservation," "Forests the Keystone of Conservation," "Water and Waterways," "Natural Scenery-Historical and Recreational," "Our Nation's Minerals" and Fish as a National Asset.

Busy Akron Club Woman
For their February meeting members of the Akron Federation took up the question of a mother's responsibility to her daughter and had Dr. Charles Barker, of New York City, a recognized child welfare expert discuss the subject in an address at the First Church of Christ. A number of Akron club women are now sponsoring the Akron Federation.

Ordinance No. 156

To issue notes in anticipation of the collection of the special assessments for the extension of sewer districts Nos. 2, 3, 5, and 6.

Be it ordained by the City Commission of the City of Xenia, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That notes of the City of Xenia, Ohio, be issued for the extension of sewer districts Nos. 2, 3, 5, and 6, in the sum of Fifty-Six Hundred Dollars ($5600); said sum being in accordance with the engineer's final estimate of the cost of property owners benefited by said improvement.

Section 2. Said notes are issued in anticipation of the collection of said assessments upon the property bounding and abutting on said improvement.

Said notes shall be in the denomination of Five Hundred Dollars, and one note shall be in the sum of Six Hundred Dollars; shall state upon their face the purpose for which they are issued; shall be dated March 1st, 1921, and shall bear interest from date until paid at the rate of Six percent per annum, payable semi-annually on September 1st and March 1st of each year; said notes shall be signed and sealed as municipal bonds and shall be evidenced by coupons attached to said notes, and both principal and interest shall be made payable at the City Auditor's office in Xenia, Ohio. Said notes shall mature as follows:

Nos. 1 and 2 aggregating $1000.00 due March 1st, 1922;
Nos. 3 and 4, aggregating $1000.00 due March 1st, 1923;
Nos. 5 and 6, aggregating $1000.00, due March 1st, 1924;
Nos. 7 and 8, aggregating $1000.00, due March 1st, 1925;
Nos. 9 and 10 aggregating $1000.00 due March 1st, 1926;
No. 11 for the sum of $600, due March 1st, 1926.

Section 3. The Mayor and the Auditor of the City of Xenia, shall be and hereby are authorized and directed on behalf of the City of Xenia, to have prepared and shall execute and seal said notes with the corporate seal of said City, of Xenia, Ohio and said interest coupons shall be signed by the Auditor, or his signature may be lithographed on said coupons, and said notes shall be sold in the manner provided by law.

Section 4. That the fund arising from the sale of said notes shall be placed to the credit of the respective improvement funds, and are hereby appropriated and authorized to be paid out on regular executed vouchers to apply on the above mentioned improvement, and for no other purpose whatsoever.

Section 5. That to redeem the notes herein proposed to be issued and pay the interest on the same, assessments anticipated to be collected from the abutting property owners along said improvement and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City of Xenia, Ohio, be and the same hereby are irrevocably pledged.

Section 6. There shall be and there is hereby levied and ordered collected on all the real and personal property of said City of Xenia, Ohio, a tax in addition to all other taxes sufficient to pay the interest on said notes as the same accrued, and also to create a sinking fund sufficient to discharge the principal as same matures in the event that the assessment against said abutting property so to be collected are for any reason insufficient to pay the interest and principal of said notes.

Section 7. This ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed this 10th day of February, 1921.
Attest:
C. H. Zell,
Clerk, City Commission.
J. Thorb Charters,
President, City Commission

GAS BUGGIES

NEW GAS RATE GOES INTO EFFECT MARCH 15 IN XENIA

Xenia patrons of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company will begin paying five cents more on the thousand for their gas, starting March 15, when the new rate petitioned to the State Utilities Commission will go into effect.

The present gas rate is 43 cents a thousand with a three cent discount given if the bill is paid before the tenth of each month. The new rate, is 50 cents a thousand feet with a five cent discount, which makes the new rate net 45 cents a thousand and just five cents higher than the old rate.

At the same time the company is announcing a reduction of minimum charges. Under the present rate the minimum charge of 80 cents a month, the bill not being less than its amount even if no gas is used. Under the new rate, this minimum charge will be reduced to 50 cents a month, which will be considered the minimum meter charge after March 15.

With the new rates going into effect March 15, patrons will pay at the higher cost during the first ten days of May. The company has its meters read in the middle of the month and the first reading under the new rate will be April 15, the bills for April going out the first of May, and payable before the tenth in order to secure the five percent discount.

STOP ITCHING SKIN Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Gives Prompt Relief

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and that cleanses and soothes the skin. Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of Zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear. Zemo, the penetrating antiseptic liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. In skin troubles, ordinary soaps are irritating and liable to aggravate the condition. Use Zemo soap. It is antiseptic, soothing, and hastens the process of healing. The E. W. Ross Co., Cleveland, O.

with 649 exchanges of 352 connecting companies serving approximately 302,000 stations, making a total of 715 exchanges and about 475,830 stations. These, added to the 123,006 stations in the territory served by the former Cleveland Telephone Company gave the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, on January 1, a total of 296,836 owned stations and 302,000 connecting stations, or an aggregate of 598,836 stations.

The territory of the Ohio Bell Company has been separated into two divisions as follows:

Northern divisions, with headquarters in Cleveland-Comprising the territory of the former Cleveland Telephone Company and Ashabula, Geauga, Lake, Lorain and Medina counties, formerly in the territory of the Central Union Telephone Company.

Southern Division, with headquarters in Columbus-Comprising the territory of the former Central Union Telephone company with the exception of the five counties transferred to the northern division.

The officers and general department heads of the company as of January first, all of whom occupied similar positions with the Central Union or the Ohio Bell companies, are as follows: Edgar S. Bloom, Chicago president; E. A. Reed, Columbus, vice president and general auditor; C. L. McNaughton, Columbus, secretary and treasurer; R. G. Pate, Cleveland, assistant to the president; C. P. Cooper, Cleveland, general manager; G. A. Kewitzky, Chicago, chief engineer; C. S. Matthy, Columbus, attorney; F. H. Richardson, Columbus, auditor of disbursements; W. T. Teague, Cleveland, general superintendent of plant; R. E. Ely, Cleveland, general superintendent of traffic.

The Central Union Telephone Company, which has now passed out of existence as an operating company, was organized June 25, 1883, by the consolidation of the Midland Telephone Company, the Western Telephone Company and the Central Telephone Company. These three companies operated properties in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois and themselves represented consolidations of smaller companies.

The first president of the Central Union was Anson Steeger, of Chicago, and he was followed in turn by George L. Phillips, a Dayton, Ohio, manufacturer, Henry B. Stone, William A. Jackson, John I. Schin, L. G. Richardson and Edgar S. Bloom.

TO DISCUSS SEX EDUCATION IN HIGH SCHOOLS AT MEETING

Invitations are being received by people in this city, interested in Public Health work, and education, to attend the convention on "Sex Education in High Schools," to be held in Columbus, Friday and Saturday, February 18th and 19th. The convention will be held under the auspices of the Public Health Service and the United States Bureau of Education.

Speakers of public prominence have been chosen to present the extent of the work that is being carried on. Among those who will speak at the convention are, Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio State University, E. F. Van Buskirk of the University of Cincinnati, Dr. Gertrude Trauseau of the Bureau of Juvenile Research, Dr. H. S. Goddard of the Bureau of Research, Mrs. Nora F. Bachman of the State Department of Health.

The new plan of education has been found to be a successful one, and the purpose of the convention is to give to those interested a review of the work that has been accomplished.

The convention will be held at the Commercial High School Columbus. Any one interested in Public Health work or in educational advancement is urged to attend.

WILBERFORCE

The Delta Chapter of the National Fraternity of Kappa Alpha Psi, the only negro incorporated Greek letter fraternity in America held its annual initiation last Saturday night at their fraternity house.

The president of the local chapter, D. T. Murray, proved a success in his efforts to make the Greek ceremony an impressive one.

The twelve college freshmen who were led to the sacristy of the Shrine where the mysteries of the Greeks were revealed to them were as follows: Messrs. E. R. Lockett, Maceo Hurt, L. Vickers, William Scales, D. C. Morrison, M. L. Henderson, Eugene Armstrong, N. Scott, E. B. Paxton, P. Christmas, L. Lockett and F. Edwards.

After the ceremony a three course supper was served.

There were two alumni members present, former president of the local chapter, R. A. Braxton, of Xenia and H. D. Geter, a medical student at Ohio State University.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

Veiled Heart.—Scoop out part of a calf's heart. Refill with well-seasoned stuffing. Steam or boil until tender, then bake until evenly browned. Cover with boiled spaghetti and serve with gravy made from drippings.

Scotch Toast.—Remove fat from two quarts mutton broth, add one-half pint oatmeal and two finely-minced onions, and salt, pepper and a sprig of parsley. Cover closely, cook gently about three or four hours, strain and serve with buttered toast fingers.

French Rice Loaf.—Pick over and soak for twelve hours or more two cups of split peas. Drain them and add one pound unglazed rice, two teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon ginger and a dash of pepper. Stir and add one quart water. Cook gently until tender and dry. Pack into a mound and garnish with French fried onions and hard-cooked eggs.

Mounted Oysters.—Pick over and rinse one dozen large oysters. Have ready one dozen thin slices bacon and one dozen pieces toast cut into rounds. Wrap each oyster in a piece of bacon and secure it in place with a wooden skewer or toothpick. Put oysters in a hot oven to cook bacon. Then place them on the rounds of toast. Sprinkle with salt and paprika and garnish with crisp sprigs of parsley.

Cream of Potato Soup.—Three potatoes, one pint milk, one tablespoon flour, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon chopped onion, one teaspoon salt, speck of white pepper, one tablespoon finely chopped parsley.

Cook potatoes until soft; heat milk in double boiler with onion; drain and mash potatoes; add boiling milk and seasoning to mashed potatoes; rub all through strainer, and return to double boiler. Bind with butter and flour cooked together. Let boil five minutes, add parsley and serve.

Bernaise Sauce.—One and one-half tablespoons finely chopped onion, two tablespoons vinegar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, three egg yolks, one tablespoon chopped parsley. Cook the onions in the vinegar. Place in double boiler and add the egg yolks and seasoning. Cook until the mixture becomes creamy.

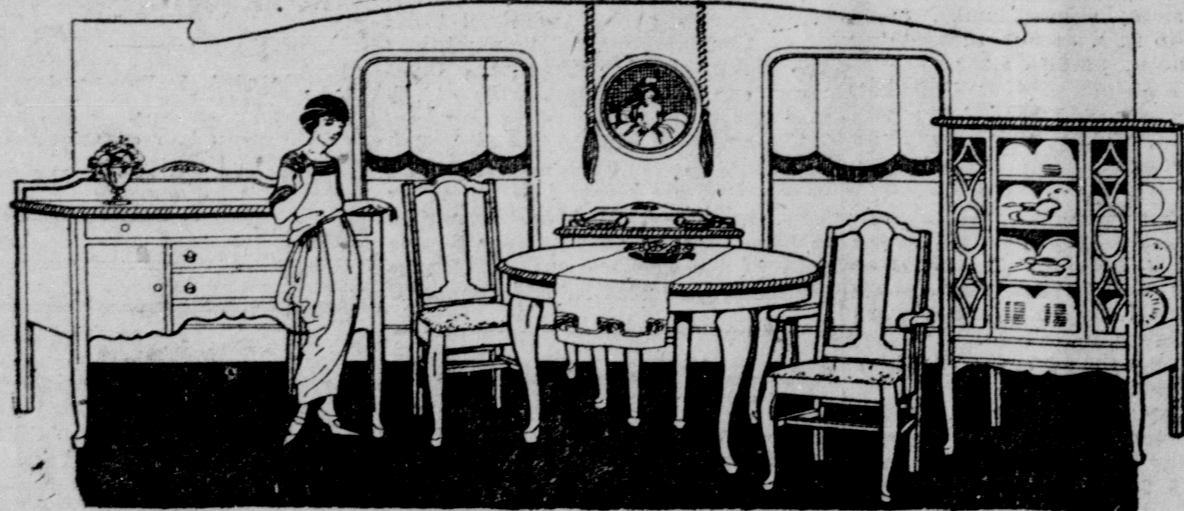

Caper Sauce.—Two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon onion juice, one cup boiling water, four tablespoons capers, one tablespoon vinegar. Make a sauce of the first five ingredients. Just before removing from the fire add the capers and vinegar.

Hollandaise Sauce.—Four tablespoons butter, two teaspoons cornstarch, two egg yolks, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half cup scalded milk, juice of one lemon, speck of cayenne. Cream the butter, add the cornstarch dissolved in one tablespoon cold water, then add the egg yolks one at a time, beating thoroughly; next put into the mixture the seasonings and milk and cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thick. Last add the lemon juice, beating it into the sauce thoroughly. Serve at once.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

A NEW HOME CHAPTER 92

The year was over—Dick, strong and well again—seemingly as healthy as ever, yet I had the haunting fear the doctor's attitude gave me when he said we must not attempt to live in a cold climate. Dick laughed at my fears, although he made no move toward going back east, but talked always of remaining in California.

Our money was almost gone. In the last two or three months Dick had done a little writing for magazines and papers. He wrote a long article about Tungsten which brought him a good big check, and a request for more of his work.

"Why ever try to do office work again?" I asked. "You have shown that you can write acceptably. Why not keep on doing that? Then we can live where we please regardless of conditions."

"It has been in my mind for some time," he responded.

But when the next two articles were returned with the printed slip so discouraging to the amateur writer, he said: "I guess it would be a broken reed if we had to depend upon it."

But when the next trial was successful I braced my scheme which I believed would work nicely.

"Let us take a little place in Southern California, where we can raise some of the things we eat, and where you can work out of doors. If we can't get a house cheap, we'll rent some land and live in a tent. We have found it very comfortable. Then I will go to work quietly to start my drapery business in a small way. Don't object dear! I shall be much happier if you don't."

"All right. If it is necessary I won't say a single word. But if I prove I can earn enough to live, just simply, will you agree to be happy and let me do it—even if I can't give you as much as I would like to?"

"It isn't what you give me, Dear! My thoughts flew to my old complaints that I could not have what other, richer women had. It is what I want to do to help you, to make it easier for you. You mustn't get sick again, you know."

"I shan't. I'm as strong as an ox again."

We moved out to a little plot of ground near Riverside. We made a small payment on the ground with one of the checks Dick received for his story, then set up our tent. We had a better equipped kitchen lean-to but aside from that our quarters were no better than we had had on the desert. Naturally the neighbors wondered, although none lived very near, and we explained to those who asked that Dick had been ill and had been advised to live out of doors.

To our desert equipment we added a small tent for Dick's study and office—as he jokingly called it. There we put his books, his typewriter, and other supplies, and he worked several hours each day with varying success. I cooked, washed and cleaned while he was busy, then we would take long walks. Junior, who had become very strong and large for his age, often accompanied us.

"Isn't this better than being cooped up in a big city?" Dick would often ask, then take in long breaths of the clear air.

On Easter morning we climbed Mount Rubidoux at sunrise to hear the choir from Los Angeles sing their athenms of praise—a feat that six months before would have been impossible for Dick.

He worked our vegetable garden in the cool of the morning, while I cared for the flowers. I had planted and which grew so quickly and so luxuriantly in that country.

Junior was in school. Morning and night he trudged sturdily the distance of a mile or more, his lunch basket grasped in his hand, his books strapped upon his back. Dick helped him with his lessons, and we all three gave a short time each day to our French exercises. We had no idle time, and although frequently we were almost broke, as Dick called it, something invariably happened before we were quite out of money.

We had paid for our lot in less than a year. And now once again Dick talked of building a house, just as happily as he had talked of one in that long ago. But this time it was to be no small mansion with a garage, but just a wing in which we would move until we could afford to build on a front, as many people did.

Dick's stories were becoming known. He received fewer rejections. Less often did the printed slip appear to discourage him. Often there came requests from editors to send them something. Then he was as pleased as a child and worked so enthusiastically that I feared he would overdo, and make himself ill again.

It was at times such as these, or when he was discouraged, that I realized his wisdom in asking me not to start the shop again. He needed me. And as long as he did I knew it was my duty to put everything else aside to meet his needs.
